

Generation 1

1. JAMES¹ HAMMON SR. 66 was born about 1730 in Caroline County, Virginia Colony. He died in 1763 in Goochland County, Virginia Colony. He married Mary Elizabeth Hargis 66, daughter of Thomas Hargis II 77 and Mary Jane Weddington 77 in 1750 in Goochland County, Virginia Colony (St. James¹). She was born on 07 Feb 1726 in Goochland County, Virginia Colony². She died in Dec 1781 in Wilkes County, North Carolina Province. Age At Death: (about 33)

Notes for James Hammon Sr. 66:

The following information provided by Neal Owen HAMMON. It was originally intended to be a part of Chapter 2 of his unpublished book entitled: "The HAM(M)ON(D) Name":

One of the brothers, James Hammon (b. Abt. 1726), did not make it to North Carolina. He died in Goochland County, Virginia in 1763. Another fortunate exception in those times of inadequate records occurred here to save him and his wife from oblivion. The Rev. William Douglass of the Dover Church in St. James Northam Parish in Goochland County kept, what is now the famous "Douglass Register", during the 27 years of his ministry in this parish. He not only kept all the births and deaths etc. but gave the maiden names of most of the wives, with the result that present generations can trace the female ancestors as well as the male. Stratton Hammon had access to the original of this Douglass Register and found: James Hammond & Mary Hargiss a Son named John born Jan: 29, 1760. Baptized 1760 Jun: 8.

The exact spot of this birth of John Hammon (b. 29 Jan 1760) was at Maiden's Adventure, now called merely "Maidens" on the James River. To be more exact "Maidens" is 4 miles downstream from where John was born and a tiny hamlet called "Rock Castle" is 2 miles above. This is 34 miles upstream from the heart of Richmond, Virginia and approximately 87 miles by river from the first settlement in America, Jamestown. John himself mentioned that he was born 10 miles downstream from "Carter's Ferry" and this was located by the county clerk as the present town of Cartersville.

It is possible that John Hammon (b. 29 Jan 1760) had brothers, James, Martin, and Edmund. Stratton Hammon thought that James Hammon (b. Abt. 1726) may also have had two families, like his father. He also speculated that James, Martin, and Edmund Hammon were sons of James Hammon (b. Abt. 1726) by his first wife, and that only John (b. 29 Jan 1760) was by his second and younger wife. In any case the relationship between our ancestor John, and these other three Hammons (who came to Kentucky about the same time) is so speculative as to be inconclusive. Although they may have been half-brothers, they were more likely cousins.

John states in his Revolutionary War pension record that his father died when he was "about three years of age" and his mother remarried. The journey to North Carolina by John Hammon (b. 29 Jan 1760) with his mother and step-father John Holbrook will be recounted in the next chapter.

The following note provided by Donna HAMONS MILLER, Feb 2001, is an extract from a Book about Wilkes County, NC, that outlines its early citizen

"James married Mary HARGISS. The famous 'Douglass Register' of the Dover Church in St. James Northham Parish in Goochland County, VA, has this entry: 'James HAMMOND and Mary HARGIS, a son named John born January 29, 1760, baptized June 8, 1760.

The following note provided by Cindy GOAD, Apr 2001, is an extract from a book entitled: "Some Pioneers from Wilkes County, NC":

James HAMMON died ca 1763 in Goochland County, VA. At the time of his death, he was married to Mary HARGIS, daughter of Thomas HARGIS, Sr. of Goochland County, VA. After his death, his wife, Mary, married John HOLBROOK, and moved to Wilkes County, NC, where son, John HAMMON served during the Revolutionary War, he later removed to Ohio. Mary (HARGIS-HAMMON) HOLBROOK died in Wilkes County, NC, between 1780 and 1785. (Information from the Ida (HOLBROOK) JONES Papers, Wilkes County, NC, Public Library).

James HAMMON came from Caroline County, VA. This fact is indicated by a land purchase recorded in Goochland County, VA, by his brother, Ambrose HAMMON of St. Margaret's Parish, Caroline County, VA.

James was named after his uncle who died in Clerkenwell. Source - David R. Smith, Subject: [Hammon] An Immigrant Hammond Family's Genealogy. <http://archiver.rootsweb.com/th/read/HAMMON/2000-04/0956514300>.

Age At Death: (55)

Notes for Mary Elizabeth Hargis :

Notes provided by Cindy Goad, 2001:

The Holbrook Genealogy (Mary married John Holbrook after James died) site at Rootsweb by Richard Sebastian supports the fact that Mary is the daughter of Thomas and Mary Jane (Weddington) Hargis; however, it also suggests that she was born in 1742 in Frederick, Maryland.

Roberta (Hammons) McIntosh has her death date as June 13, 1782

James Hammon Sr.  and Mary Elizabeth Hargis  had the following children:

2. i. EDMUND² HAMMON was born about 1752 in Goochland County, Virginia Colony. CAUTION: (There is no proof whatsoever that Edmund is the son of James and Mary Hammon. His placement here is pure speculation.)

Notes for Edmund Hammon:

There is an individual by the name of Edmund Hammons who served in the Revolutionary War, but deserted in 1777. The family was in North Carolina at this time and his younger brother, John, did serve during the war from North Carolina. Currently there is no way of knowing if this is our Edmund.

3. ii. MARTIN HAMMON was born about 1754 in Goochland County, Virginia Colony. He died on 15 Jul 1803 in Fayette, Fayette County, Kentucky, USA. Martin Hammon lived in Bryan Station, Kentucky District, Virginia Colony on 15 Aug 1782. Age At Death: (about 47) CAUTION: (His link as a son of James and Mary is circumstantial. There is no absolute proof, but he is often found in the same locations as his "brothers".)

Notes for Martin Hammon:

It is believed that this is the Martin Hammon referenced as having been at Bryant's Station in Kentucky on 15 Aug 1782.

James Hammon died in Virginia prior to the family moving to North Carolina. Sons John and James II are known to have moved to Kentucky and both eventually died there. It is possible that an entry in "The Kentucky Gazette", Volume VIII, Number XLIX, 22 August 1795 as "Jeremiah Power regarding land entered in the name of Martin Hammon (p. 130) is "our" Martin.

ISSUES: The difficulty with information on the family was the destruction of Scott County (Owen County) records from 1782-1817. The bigger issue is John's death. I don't have issue with the age, just with the fact that there is no evidence for it. The fact that his pension ended in 1852 would suggest he was dead. When this was brought to Neal Owen Hammon, he refused to recognize the possibility and instead suggested John was probably rich enough and didn't need the money. I find it hardly likely anyone would have voluntarily ended those payments.

Generation 2

According to the story "Sweet Owen" this couple had 22 children - the 1st born in 1787 and the 22nd born in 1821.

The following information provided by Neal Owen HAMMON. It was originally intended to be a part of Chapter 3 of his unpublished book entitled: "The HAM(M)ON(D) Name":

Over the years, Stratton Hammon wrote a great deal pertaining to our first Kentucky ancestor, John Hammon (b. 29 Jan 1760). One of the first was an article that was published in the Filson Club History Quarterly, Vol. 23, No. 2, July 1949, page 202, titled "John Hammon, Revolutionary Soldier and Kentucky Pioneer". This was a brief family history, covering the activities of John Hammon during his lifetime. A second article was published in the Register of the Kentucky Historical Society, Vol. 50, No. 170, January 1952, page 35, titled "Several Corrections to the List of Defenders of Bryan's Station". In this work, Stratton Hammon clarifies the commonly held but erroneous belief that Sarah Hammon was the wife of our ancestor, John Hammon. A more complete history of our ancestor was printed in book form; it was called "The Saga of John Hammon, Revolutionary War Hero and Owen County Pioneer", (Pilgrim Press, Louisville, 1979). A short article on John Hammon may also be found in The Kentucky Encyclopedia (John E. Kleber, Ed. Lexington, 1992, page 401).

John Hammon (b. 29 Jan 1760), in pension proceedings held October 6, 1835, before the Court of Common Pleas of Hamilton County, Ohio, declared he "was born on James River, ten miles below Carter's Ferry, in Goochland County [Virginia], Jan'y 29th, 1760". He also said in his deposition that he had no record of his birth. But by a singular piece of good luck a record was kept. The Douglass Register, edited by W. Mac Jones, is famous among genealogists because at a time when almost no vital statistics were being kept, the Reverend William Douglass took it upon himself to keep a record of the marriages, births, and deaths in his parish. He went to St. James Parish in Goochland County (Dover Episcopal Church) on the 12th of October 1760, and had charge of it for 27 years. On Page 59 of the original register he recorded: "James Hammond & Mary Hargiss a son named John born Jan: 29, 1760. Baptized 1760 Jun: 8."

There is no record of the other children of this couple, but there is a possibility, from later associations, to believe that John had a brother named James and possibly two more named Edmund and Martin, all older than he and for that reason not listed in the register. That the elder James, the father, came from Caroline County, Virginia, is indicated by a land purchase, recorded in Goochland County in 1747 by his brother "Ambrose Hammon of St. Margaret's Parish, Caroline County."

John's mother, Mary Hargis Hammon, was left a widow about 1763, as John in his deposition said his father died when he was "about three years of age as he has been told by his mother." It is evident that she soon married John Holbrook. Her new husband was the son of Randolph Holbrook who probably lived in the neighborhood as we find several mentions of the elder Holbrook in the records, including Reverend Douglass' attendance at his funeral in 1778. More children were born to Mary Hargis in this second marriage, among whom were Hargis and Randolph, who were named sons of John Holbrook in a will in Wilkes County, North Carolina, dated 26 January 1805.

The infant John Hammon was reared in the Goochland home of his step-father among his half-brothers and sisters and possibly with several full brothers and sisters. In 1774, William Hammon, the uncle of John, now a Baptist minister, left his Caroline County home to journey to Fauquier County where he joined others, including John Wright, Jr., a cousin of George Washington, in signing a petitioned that reads as follows:

To the Worshipful Court of Fauqr County - The Petition of us the Subscribers Sheweth, that we Being Desenters bearing the Denomination of Baptists &c. Desirieing to Worship God According to the Best light we have in Holy Scriptures, and the Dictates of our Own Consciences, Humbly Prayeth that your Worships would be Pleased to grant us the liberty To meet together for the worship of God in our way...

The court took an entire year to give them an answer and in the meantime many of the petitioners tired of waiting and moved to North Carolina to seek religious freedom. William Hammon, however, returned to his Tidewater home, where matters were even worse. In the clerk's office of Caroline County may be seen records of the imprisonment of several Baptist ministers, one of which reads: Bartholomew Chewing, James Goodrich and Edward Herndon being brought before the court for teaching and preaching the Gospel, without having Episcopal ordination, or a license from the general court: Ordered, that they be remanded back to gaol of this county and there remain till they give security, each in the sum of twenty pounds and two securities each in the sum of two pounds, for their good behavior twelve months and a day

On one occasion, Patrick Henry came to Caroline County to defend the liberties of these ministers. In despair, William Hammon aroused his brothers and their friends, the Holbrooks, and they all moved to what was then Surry County, North Carolina. With William Hammon was brother Ambrose and probably John, the uncle of our subject. In the party was John Holbrook and probably his brothers. As would be expected, young John Hammon, traveled to North Carolina with his mother and stepfather, John Holbrook.

The location that the William Hammon party chose for settling was on the Roaring River, a tributary of the Yadkin in Mulberry Fields, now Wilkesboro, and in the now Wilkes County, North Carolina.

A manuscript record in the office of Secretary of State of North Carolina reads: The Publick of North Carolina to John Nuckols - Dr. for going against the Cherokee Indians in Obedience to an express from the Commanding officer of Tryon County. Feby 9th 1771. John Nuckols Capt., 6 days at 7s. 6d. -diet 4s. ---- 2. 19s... Martin Hammons, 6 days at 2s. -do (diet) 4s. ----16s

From this document it would appear that some members of the Hammon family had proceeded them in their southward movement. Here, at the same time, also settled Benjamin Morgan and wife, Phebe Settle, of Fauquier County, Virginia, whose son Charles later became young John Hammon's father-in-law. In the same area near the forks of the Yatkin River was the farm of Daniel Boone. This section was sparsely settled at the time. So much so, that in 1777 when Wilkes County was formed from Surry, the Hammon, Holbrook, and Morgan families were the first to enter land. Christopher Gist, Jr., had 5,000 acres at Mulberry Fields in 1749, but the frontiersmen were slow in following his example. Bishop Spangenberg, in seeking a tract of land suitable for a Moravian settlement in 1752, wrote concerning this location:

These are old Indian fields - where the Cherokees probably lived once. They have a pleasant situation and remarkable fertile soil. Morgan Bryant had taken them up but they are uninhabited.

The Hammon and Holbrook land was situated to the north in the foothills of the Blue Ridge, on a branch of Roaring River still called Hammon's Creek, and extending uphill to include the present site of the old resort hotel at Roaring Gap. John, in his deposition, verified the location of his home: He was living in Wilkes County, North Carolina, on Roaring River, at the foot of the Blue Ridge when called into service. His stepfather, John Holbrook, entered "175 acres south of mountain near camp branch. Including plantation... 18 June 1778," and another 220 acres in 1779.

Generation 2

John Holbrook must have been away from home most of the time during this period, as the records show he gave 84 months of service in the Revolutionary War. The only glimpse that we get into the family life of the household in which young John Hammon was raised is provided when the church reprimanded "Brother John Holbrook for suffering dancing in his house. William Hammon became the first pastor of the South Fork of Roaring River Baptist Church the minutes of which, like the church itself, are still in existence. The church was a member of the Yadkin Association. In Benedicts' History of the Baptist Denomination in America, it is said that the Yadkin Association "Bears date from 1790, and is the oldest institution of the kind in this part of North Carolina. In the year 1786, eleven churches, which had been previously gathered about the head of the Yadkin and its waters, began to hold yearly Conferences, as a branch of the Strawberry Association in Virginia. But in 1790, the churches, composing this Conference, were, upon their request, dismissed, and formed a distinct Association. The ministers belonging to this body at its commencement, were George Mc Neal, John Cleveland, William Petty, William Hammond, Cleveland Coffee, Andrew Baker, and John Stone..."

Soon after moving to North Carolina, these people were caught up in the Revolutionary War. As we have seen, John Holbrook served the equivalent of seven years. Another John Hammon, cousin of our subject and son of his uncle Ambrose, enlisted in May 1776 in the North Carolina Line and served at Valley Forge and at White Plains where Major Andre was caught with the plans of Benedict Arnold. In this same company were William Boone, William Bryan, and Richard Morgan, all of the Upper Yadkin. Except to send men off to the Continental Armies, the full effect of the war did not reach this frontier until the signing of the Declaration of Independence. In the summer of 1776 the Indian war cry was heard in the Upper Yadkin Valley. In response to the Cherokee uprising the settlers mobilized six thousand militia in two expeditions, including a good representation of Yadkin men, defeated the Indians in every engagement. Late in the year, "unable to offer further resistance, the Cherokees fled to the fastness of the Great Smoky Mountains leaving their crops and towns at the mercy of the enemy. All told, the Americans destroyed thirty-six of their towns and laid waste a vast stretch of the surrounding country."

Five months after this campaign and some time between the 1st and 29th of January 1777, John Hammon, marched out to defend his country. We have his own statement given under oath, "he entered the service of the United States, as a militia man, in the year 1777 at the age of sixteen years, under the command of Captain Benjamin Cleveland in Wilkes County, on Roaring River in North Carolina, from thence he marched to Watauga, at the mouth of the Doe River, where he was stationed for the span of three months, under the same commander, with a guard of about thirty men, to protect the inhabitants against the Tories and Indians: From this place, after the three months had expired the deponent returned to his mother's residence, with his commander: On the return of said Cleveland, he was promoted to a Colonel's commission, and his brother Larkin Cleveland took his place as Captain: Shortly after that time, deponent marched out under the command of the said Colonel Cleveland, who then had the charge of three or four hundred men, to the Catawba River, on a scouting party, in which more than a month was spent: during this time, in a skirmish with the Tories, the said Captain Cleveland had his thigh broken by a ball, and being unable to perform his duty, Martin Gambrel was chosen Captain in his stead."

Martin Hammon seems to have been the first into the western territory as he had been first in North Carolina. How early he went and when John first began to accompany him is not known. It is known that Martin was in Kentucky by 1777 as we was awarded a settlement and preemption by the land commissioners on Flat Creek, at the exact place where the Boone and Callaway daughters were rescued after their capture by Indians. Also he signed a petition to the General Assembly of Virginia on the November 25, 1777, in regard to trouble they were having at the time about salt. Possibly John Hammon was Martin's companion long before their proven association at Bryan's Station, since John stated in his deposition that "he came to the west, a young man, an adventurer". To penetrate so far into the wilderness at such a tender age was not unheard of, as even George Washington went as far as Wills Creek in 1748 when he was but sixteen years of age.

Hammon's Creek was named as a boundary of Jefferson County when Kentucky County, Virginia was divided into three counties 1780; these being Fayette, Lincoln, and Jefferson. That this creek was named for Nathan Hammond, who was a delegate to the first Boonesborough convention in early June, 1775 and later the drummer in the Harrodsburg militia company. Nathan Hammond was also a member of Thomas Bullitts company when he explored Kentucky in 1773. He was later killed by Indians near his cabin on this Creek. It would appear that he resided in Augusta County, Virginia, before moving to Kentucky.

In September 1780, Lord Cornwallis advanced into North Carolina, boasting that he would conquer all the states south of the Susquehanna River. His line of march lay far inland and on his left flank, still farther inland, one of his best commanders, Colonel Ferguson. Ferguson boasted that every mountain man that did not come down and swear allegiance to the king would be hanged to his own door post. Aroused by this threat, bands of militia began to form in the counties of Surry, Wilkes, Burke, Washington, and Sullivan of North Carolina, and Washington County of Virginia. Ferguson, being daily informed of the movements of these troops, began to retreat toward the camp of Cornwallis before the rising bands of Americans could unite. The American commander, realizing that foot soldiers would not be able to overtake the retreating Tories, ordered all who possessed horses to press forward while the infantry was to follow as speedily as possible. John Hammon, then twenty years old, was a member of the mounted infantry party under Colonel Cleveland.

The advance party of mounted infantry soon arrived at a place called Cowpens, in South Carolina, where two beeves were killed and order was given for the men to cook and eat as quickly as possible; but marching orders were given before those who were indolent had prepared anything to eat. They marched all night in the rain and crossed Broad River the next morning where an attack was expected. However, they failed to find the enemy but the detachment, almost exhausted by fatigue, hunger, cold and wet, and for want of sleep, pursued their march a few miles when they met two men from Colonel Ferguson's camp who gave some account of his situation. Then, being revived by hopes of gaining the desired object, the officers held a short consultation (sitting on their horses) in which it was concluded that said detachments should be formed into four columns; two of the columns should govern their march by the view of the other. Colonel Winston was placed at the head of the right column; Colonel Cleveland at the head of the left, and Colonel Shelby and Sevier at the heads of the two middle columns; and as Colonel Campbell had to come the greatest distance from the State of Virginia, he was complimented with the command of the entire detachment.

After the consultation they rode like fox hunters as fast as their horses could run through rough woods, crossing branches and ridges without any person that had any knowledge of the woods to direct or guide them. They happened to fall in upon the left of the enemy being the place of their intended destination. At this very moment the firing began on the other parts of the line, when all dismounted under fire of the enemy, and the right and left columns surrounded them as quickly as possible. In the meantime, the enemy charged with bayonets on the two middle columns, who being armed with rifles and not a single bayonet amongst them, were twice obliged to retreat a small distance, but they wheeled again with increased vigor and fought bravely.

The enemy being surrounded, their left wing began to retreat by drawing up closer toward their right. After firing a few rounds the smoke obscured the British troops, and the Americans unable to see, faltered. At that critical moment Jesse Franklin rode up in advance of the line and perceiving the situation of the foe, confused by smoke and shooting above the heads of their assailants, he encouraged the troops to make another effort, assuring them the victory would be theirs if they advanced within good range of the enemy and then fired. In that moment Colonel Ferguson fell and confusion ensued. Captain Ryarson, being the next highest officer, assumed the command but all his efforts to restore order were unavailing. Surrounded and exposed to a fire they could not return, they soon surrendered. Captain Ryarson delivered up his sword to Jesse Franklin saying to him, 'you deserve it, sir.'

Some statistics of this engagement are given: Out of the Patriot force of 700 there were 32 killed on the field and about 40 died afterward of their wounds. The Tory loss in killed were 250 and 987 prisoners."

Forty-one years later, John Hammon named his youngest son after Jesse Franklin, the hero of this engagement. John Hammon's account of this battle is preserved in his deposition. He says: "The deponent, under the orders of the same Colonel Cleveland, and Captain Gambriel, marched to King's Mountain, in which battle the deponent fought, Colonel Campbell, being the eldest officer on the ground, then took command. After being three times driven down the side of the mountain, the British and Tories were finally defeated, and their army taken prisoner; after the battle deponent returned home with his officers, and during his absence, had served more than a month."

John goes on as follows: "Shortly after the deponent's return, Col. Cleveland, and said Captain Gambriel, raised another party of men, among whom was deponent and marched then to New River, where they remained hunting the Tories, fifteen or sixteen days. While the party was out, three Tories were captured, one of whom by the name of Ingraham, having used some severe language to the said Captain Gambriel, was killed with the breach of said Gambriel's gun; in consequence of which said Col. Cleveland, immediately suspended said Gambriel from his command; and John Morgan was appointed in his stead. Under said Morgan, deponent marched to the New River the second time, where he spent, under arms, about one fortnight. These were a part of the more remarkable incidents in which deponent was engaged. He also marched with Col. Lemon, to join General Greene, but the troops were ordered back before they met the army. He (John) was several times a volunteer, was once drafted, and never served as a substitute."

Mary, John's mother, must have died late in 1780 after the battle of King's Mountain, for in his deposition he says: "His mother died a short time before deponent emigrated to Kentucky. At the time of her death, his mother, who had married a second time, resided in Wilkes County, North Carolina." Her death seemed to sever the last tie holding John to Wilkes County for he left, never to return.

John's uncle, Rev. William Hammon, stayed on in North Carolina until he died in 1793 leaving a will in Wilkes County naming wife Sarah, sons Ambrose and Benjamin, and daughters Sarah and Drusella. His other sons were either dead or, like Martin Hammon, had disappeared into the west. John's uncle Ambrose died in 1794 leaving a will giving his estate and nine Negroes to his wife Ann, sons John and Robert, and daughters Elizabeth Amburga and Mary Johnson. Both Ambrose and his brother participated in the Revolution.

John's relatives, the Holbrook half-brothers and sisters, and his future in-laws, the Morgans, were to follow him west in groups at intervals for the next 25 years.

When John Hammon left North Carolina, he did not go directly to Kentucky. He was now of legal age and wanted to dispose of a farm which evidently had been held in trust for him in Virginia since the death of his father. He took a year to attend to this and other matters and on the 13th of June 1782, we find "John Hammon of the County of Wilkes in North Carolina" selling 319 acres of land in Albemarle County, Virginia, to Thomas Johnson. The purchaser lived at the time in Wilkes County and was a member of William Hammon's church. He probably was the husband of John's cousin, Mary Hammon Johnson, named in the will above. He was also, in all probability, the Thomas Johnson who "much pleased" Daniel Boone by appearing at Long Island on the Holston in 1775 to help cut the first path to Kentucky.

During this interval of a year after the surrender of Cornwallis in the east and before the last battles of the Revolution in the west, John, with the money from his farm in his pockets, moved on west. On the 13th of June, he was in Charlottesville, Virginia and by the 15th of August had settled at Bryan's Station in Kentucky. He had arrived in time to participate in the famous Siege of Bryan's Station.

This attack was the last major invasion into central Kentucky by the British and their Indian allies. This war party of 30 British Rangers and some 270 Indians under Captain Caldwell left Old Chillicothe with the infamous Tory, Simon Girty, as interpreter and quasi-commander of the Wyandots, and Moluntha leading the Shawnees. The invaders came down the Little Miami, crossed the Ohio and traveled another fifty miles into Kentucky without being discovered.

Brian Station was located in what is presently the eastern outskirts of Lexington, on a small branch of North Elkhorn Creek. The tract of land on which the station stood had been surveyed by John Floyd for William Preston in June, 1774. The stockade was of sharp pointed logs twelve feet high forming a parallelogram said to be 600 feet long by 150 feet wide, with blockhouses at the corners. Forty cabins placed at intervals formed part of the walls between the two gates. The fort stood on a little cleared hill overlooking the creek. A hundred acres of full grown corn, hemp, a tannery, several abandoned cabins, and most of the cattle were just beyond the clearing. The creek was on the east side of the fort, and there was a spring near the creek. In front (to the south) of the fort ran a large buffalo road, that extended from Lexington all the way to the Ohio River at Maysville.

Just before daylight one Indian was shot but Girty, still hoping that he would be taken for part of a small raiding party, kept his companions quiet. Two men desperately rode out of the fort to bring aid, but the war party was still unwilling to betray its presence. It was then decided to take advantage of this reluctance on the part of the Indians by having the women go as usual for the water outside the fort and thus, carrying on the pretense that the settlers had discovered nothing amiss, prepare for a long siege. Whether in amazement, admiration of the daring of the women, or in belief that their plan had succeeded, the Indians made no move.

Later the attack finally came. The pioneers, firing carefully, hesitated only long enough to help when the women could not keep up with the loading. Only a few attackers reached the walls but these managed to fire several outlying cabins. The Indian, never was good at facing frontal fire, retreated leaving their dead and wounded scattered on the hill. Only two of the defenders were killed.

The two messengers sent for aid rode to Lexington, where Levi Todd mobilized a company of militia. Several men from Boone's Station joined the force. Thirty footmen and 16 or 17 mounted men started at once for Bryan's and reached it at two in the afternoon. Expecting the ambush which was waiting for them, they decided that the horsemen should charge directly through the Indians, while the footmen advanced up the road. With a wild rush the mounted riflemen charged through the Indians and rode into the stockade; only William Hayes, Daniel Boones son-in-law, was wounded. The footmen were left to confront nearly three hundred of the enemy. Luckily, their rifles were unfired while those of the Indians were empty. They made a quick retreat into the tall corn and a confused thrashing and shooting before they were able to return to Lexington. The infantry lost two men in this skirmish.

Through the long night the men at Bryans Station stayed at the portholes. Occasionally a bullet would thud against the logs. About ten in the morning the enemy raised the siege.

John Hammon devoted but four sentences to his account of the battle of King's Mountain, where an entire army was destroyed. Of this fight in Kentucky he says only "before the close of the war, moved to Kentucky and settled at Bryan's Station." Reuben T. Durrett, in writing of Bryan's Station, lists John Hammon as having been among those in the fort on the 15th of August 1782, along with Martin Hammond. But he erroneously supposed his wife was Sarah Clement Hammond; his authority for making this assumption was a letter he received from William D. Hixon. There is no record that John Hammon was among those who left the station to pursue the Indians, and suffered in the defeat at the Lower Blue Licks.

After the defeat at the Lower Blue Licks, there was an invasion of Indian territory under the command of George Rogers Clark. "John Hammon stated that he marched against the Shawnee Towns, which were burned, and thirty or more prisoners taken, which were taken to Danville in Kentucky." However, surviving Kentucky military records would indicate that the expedition in which John Hammon participated, was several years later.

Excerpts of the pension records concerning John Hammon (b. 29 Jan 1760) have been used above but these documents are of such historical value to our family that they are here given in their entirety.

The Affidavit of John Hammond taken on the Fifth day of Sept. 1832 to be laid before Secretary of the War Department of the United States of America to be used on behalf of Jacob Stamper an applicant to be placed on the pension Roll of the United States as a revolutionary soldier. This affiant being of lawful age and first duly cautioned charged and Sworn deposeth and saith that he this affiant was a revolutionary soldier that he served as such Five years under Capt. Benjamin Cleveland, Larkin Cleveland, Martin Gambrel, Richard Allen (John Morgan was the last Capt. I served under in ser) as his officers - that he was in the battle of Kings Mountain in the State of South Carolina under the com. of Col. Benj. Cleveland.

That he is not on the pension roll as such - that he knows Jacob Stamper of Owen County, Ky. who he has been informed is about making his declaration in order to obtain the benefit of the Act of Congress of June 7th 1832. That he was well acquainted with the said Jacob Stamper in the year 1778 when he first entered the service of the United States - that the said Stamper was at the time quite a youth not more this affiant thinks than 16 years of age - that he volunteered in a company commanded by one Richard Allen as the Capt., that said company he thinks was attached to a regiment under the Command of Col. Cleveland - which Regiment rendezvoused at the Courthouse in Wilkes. This affiant at that time was a resident of Wilkes County North Carolina and so was the Said Jacob Stamper and they lived neighbours.

This affiant states that he saw Jacob Stamper leave home upon said service and saw him when he returned. And from his present impressions and recollections is satisfied that he must have been engaged in said service at least two years. This affiant further states that after the said Jacob Stamper left the service in the regt. of Col. Cleveland the said Stamper volunteered upon an expedition to the western frontiers - that he saw said Stamper start on said expedition - that he belonged to the Company of Absalom Cleveland and said company was attached to a regiment under the Command of Col. Williams of North Carolina.

He further states that he saw said Stamper soon after he re-turned from said last expedition and that he had not then re-covered from an attack of sickness which he had during his tour.

This affiant further states that toward the latter part of the year 1778 as well as he recollects he understood that Col. Cleavelands Regiment had surprised a body of Tories who were collecting together on the Virginia Side of New River and that one Zachariah Goss with whom this affiant had been well acquainted was taken by said Regiment tried and hung, that he recollects of hearing about the same time that this man Goss had made many threats against Jacob Stamper who this affiant understood had been the principal agent in detecting and surprising the said body of Tories.

The State of Ohio-County of Hamilton

On this sixth day of October Anno Domini 1835 personally appears in open Court, before the Court of Common pleas of Hamilton County aforesaid, now sitting John Hammon a resident of Cincinnati in said County & State, aged 75 years; who being just duly sworn according to law, doth on his oath, make the following declaration, in order to obtain the benefit of the act of Congress passed June 7, 1832.

That he entered the service of the United States, as a militia man, in the year 1777 at the age of sixteen years, under the command of Captain Benjamin Cleveland, in Wilkes County on Roaring River in North Carolina, from thence he marched to Watauga, at the mouth of Doe River, where he was stationed for the space of three months, under the same commander, with a guard of about thirty men, to protect the inhabitants against the Tories and Indians: From this place, after the three months had expired, the deponent returned to his mother's residence, with his commander: On the return of said Cleveland, he was promoted to a Colonel's commission, and his brother Larkin Cleveland took his place as Captain: Shortly after that time, deponent marched out under the command of said Colonel Cleveland, who then had the charge of three or four hundred men, to the Catawba River, on a scouting party, in which more than a month was spent: during this time, in a skirmish with the Tories, the said Captain Cleveland had his thigh broken by a ball, and being unable to perform his duty Martin Grambill was chosen Captain in his stead.

After the tour was accomplished the deponent, under the orders of the same Colonel Cleveland and Captain Grambrel, marched to King's Mountain, in which battle the deponent fought. Colonel Campbell, being the _____ officer on the ground, took the command: After being three times driven down the side of the mountain, the British & Tories were finally defeated, and their army taken prisoners: after the battle deponent returned home with his officers, and during his absence. had served more than one month.

Shortly after the deponent's return, Col. Cleveland & said Captain Gambriel, raised another party of men, among whom was deponent, and marched them to New River, where they remained hunting the tories, fifteen or sixteen days -- while the party was out, three tories were captured, one of whom by the name of Ingraham, having used some severe language to the said Captain Gambriel, was killed with the breech of said Gambriel's gun; in consequence of which said Col. Cleveland instantly suspended said Grambril from his command: and John Morgan was appointed in his stead - Under said Morgan, deponent marched to the New River the second time, where he spent, under arms, about one fortnight. These were a part of the more remarkable incidents, in which the deponent was engaged. He also marched with Col. Lenon, to join General Greene, but the troops were ordered back, before they met the army: Deponent further saith, that he fought in the war of the Revolution, more than one year: during which time he was actively engaged as a militia man: Deponent before the close of the war, moved to Kentucky and settled at Bryants Station, and, having crossed the Ohio, marched against the Shawnee Towns, which were burned, and thirty or more prisoners taken, which were taken to Danville in Kentucky.

This deponent has no documentary evidence of his service in the Revolution. He is _____, & _____: has re-sided for the last ten years in Cincinnati aforesaid.

He hereby relinquishes, every claim whatever to a pension, or annuity, except the present, and declares that his name is not on the pension roll of the _____ of any state.

At the same time & place in the open Court as aforesaid personally appeared Colby Holbrook, who resides in Owen County, Kentucky, but who has come to this place to verify so far as he can the declaration of said John Hammon above made- said Colby being duly sworn according to law deposeth & saith, that he was born in Orange County in Virginia in the year 1769: that he lived in the neighborhood of John Hammon aforesaid, when he went out as a militia man with Col. Cleveland, in the Revolutionary War: that deponent was then about eight or nine years old, and distinctly remembers when John Hammons went out as aforesaid: the extent of said Hammons service, and the kind of service he performed, this affiant cannot state: but he does know that he has always understood from the conversation of said Hammon, and others, that the said Hammon was actually engaged as a militia man; that he was at Kings Mountain, & partook in all the dangers of that battle: from what he knew himself and from what he heard at the time and since from those who served with him said Hammon deponent verily believes that he served as a militia man for the space of one year. He has been acquainted with said Hammon from his childhood & believe him to be a man of veracity.

And to the following interrogatories performed by the said Court: the said John

Generation 2

Hammon answers and says-- To the first: Where, and in what year were you born? He answers, that he was born on James River, ten miles below Carter's Ferry, in Goochland County Jan'y 29th 1760.

To the second. Have you any record of your age, and if so where is it? He answers & says, that his father died, when the deponent was about three years of age, as he has been told by his mother. His mother died a short time before deponent emigrated to Kentucky. He therefore has no record of his birth, as he came to the west, a young man, an adventurer, & took no evidence of his birth. At the time of her death, his mother, who had married the second time, resided in Wilkes County North Carolina.

To the third: Where were you living when called into service; where have you lived since the Revolutionary War and where do you now live - Answer - He was living in Wilkes County, North Carolina, on Roaring River, at the foot of the Blue Ridge when called into service; since the Revolution he has resided in Kentucky, Indiana, & Ohio, and now resides in Cincinnati, Ohio.

To the fourth: How were you called into service? Answer: He was several times a volunteer, was once drafted, & never served as a substitute.

To the fifth: State the names of some of the regular officers, who were with the troops, when you served? He answers, that he never served with the regular troops, or under regular officers: the officers were all of the militia, & the Regiments militia - of the Militia officers, Col Benj. Cleveland, Col. Campbell, Shelby & McDowal [?], at Kings Mountain - Captain Cleveland, Morgan & Gambriel - further circumstances of his services, he refers to his declaration -

To the sixth: He says he does not recollect that he ever received a written discharge from the service - if he ever did, it is lost.

To the seventh: He names Robert Richardson - Septimus Hasen Andrew C. Herron.

Recorded by D. Brown Clerk - Book E-2 Vol. 8, Page 26

When John Hammon moved to Kentucky he, like everyone else between the age of sixteen and fifty, became Virginia militiamen. The militia was organized by counties, and since John Hammon lived in Fayette County, he would have been a member of the Fayette County militia. Whenever a crisis arose, a certain percentage of the militia, for example fifty percent, would be called to active duty, with the remaining members expected to remain at home and guard against surprise attacks by the Indians. It is uncertain on which occasions John Hammon was called to active service, except for the campaign against the Indians in 1786. Old state records that are presently in the library of the Kentucky Historical Society show "J. Hammond" serving against the Shawnee Indians under Col. Benjamin Logan. These records, which can also be found on the Manuscript File in the Microfilm Drawer 48, Box 36, are in fact the pay records for military service.

Generation 2

The records had a printed blank treasury warrant that was typical of those issued to the soldiers. Thereafter were many pages of names and other data listed in the following order: Date: Person Rec'd from: To whom Granted: Tribe of Indians: Date of Cert: No. of Cert: Am't in pounds: Officer Commanding: Am't in Doll.

On fourth page of this document I found an entry with the name of J. Hammond, under "To whom Granted". The other data was as follows:

Date: Sept 6, 1800

Person Recd from: James Blare [or Blane]

To whom Granted: J. Hammond

Tribe of Indians: Shawnee

Date of Cert: 7[?] Aug 1787

No. of Cert: 166

Amt in pounds: 4s 0d

Officer Commanding: Ben Logan

Amt in Doll: 66.0

Farther along in these records is the name of D. Boone, who received the same amount of money, his certificate being dated 10 Aug., 1787, number 316. Boone was also under Logan and fought the Shawnee. From this I conclude that the pay for an officer was no greater than the pay for lesser ranks. Boone was at least a Captain if not a Colonel during this period. Under the column "Tribe of Indians", some are noted as Shawnee, and others as Wabash.

The third campaign against the Shawnee towns is generally called "Colonel Logan's Expedition". The campaign that year was a two pronged affair, with one unit, under Clark, going against the Wabash Indians near Vincennes, and the other unit, under Logan, attacking the Shawnees along the Great Miami. Logans expedition struck the Shawnee villages when most of the warriors had moved westward to oppose Clark. Ten of their villages, containing two hundred houses, together with the winter supply of corn, amounting to 15,000 bushels, were burned. Ten Indians were killed, and thirty four, including two chiefs, were taken prisoners.

From these records it is safe to conclude that John Hammon served in the third campaign, in 1786, for the following reasons:

(1) In his deposition, he says he the Deponent before the close of the war, moved to Kentucky and settled at Bryants Station, and, having crossed the Ohio, marched against the Shawnee Towns, which were burned, and thirty or more prisoners taken, which were taken to Danville in Kentucky. The campaign of 1786 was the only one where more than one or two prisoners were taken.

(2) The payroll records note that these soldiers fought against the Shawnee and the Wabash Indians. In the earlier campaigns, the Wabash were allies, or at least neutral.

(3) If John Hammon served under Benjamin Logan, he would have been on the third campaign, since the other two were commanded by Clark, not Logan. If the records intended to mention subordinate commanding officers, such as company or battalion officers, it should have been someone who lived in Fayette County, since the militia units were organized by counties. Logan was from Lincoln County. Bryants Station was then (and is still) in Fayette County, not Lincoln County.

John Hammon remained in Fayette County after the campaign against the Shawnee Towns; he can be found on the tax rolls in 1788, listed as owning one horse, but no slaves. About 1784 Colonel Robert Johnson, who was one of the militia officers at Bryants Station, and a business partner with John Craig, began a settlement at the Great Crossing of Elkhorn, a few miles west of the present town of Georgetown, Ky. A few years later John Hammon was living at Stamping

Ground, just a few miles north of the Great Crossing. Both places were on one of the big buffalo roads that existed in central Kentucky. The "Stamping Ground" was so named because the buffalo pawed the dirt around the road and rolled in it to provide themselves with a coating to ward off insect bites. Until 1789 the Great Crossing and Stamping Ground were part of Fayette County, then part of Woodford County from 1789 until 1792, after which it became Scott County. Perhaps about this time he married his first wife. He stayed at Stamping Ground for 12 or 15 years; and it would appear that his first wife died during this period, for by the time John moved again, about the turn of the 19th century, he was married to his second wife, Mildred Ann Morgan.

Church records show that John Hammon and his wife "Milly" (Mildred Ann Morgan Hammon) were also charter members of the Mountain Island Baptist Church in 1801, and therefore they were, in all probability, residing on the headwaters of that Eagle Creek, Scott County, Kentucky. Just when he moved there has not yet been able to determine because the Scott County records were burned. By 1801 John Hammon had been in Kentucky nineteen years. Their most prominent neighbors, and church members, were the Cobbs, and John Cobb had taken out a survey for 3,000 acres on Eagle Creek in 1788. Major Charles Morgan, the father of Mildred Ann Morgan Hammon, together with numerous partners, had surveyed several large tracts totaling 58,884 acres around Eagle Creek between 1785 and 1788.

In the Mountain Island Church records there are seven obvious Hammon children listed, in addition to the names of John and "Milly"; Ambrose, Elijah, Robert, Thomas, Elizabeth, Margaret, and Mary. Some of these children were probably by his first wife and some by his second. In the minutes of the Mussel Shoals Church, formed 1817, the children listed are; Ambrose, Elijah, John Jr., Robert and Elizabeth. Since my great-grandfather, Jesse Franklin Hammon, was the 22nd child, born 19 November 1821, he was not listed in the church minutes because baptisms were not recorded. Another source gives information on this same church:

Chapter 3. The Mountain Island Baptist Church

Twenty members of the Great Crossing Baptist Church received permission on the first Saturday in June 1801 to constitute a new church at Mountain Island in the upper Big Eagle [creek] section of what was then Scott County, Kentucky [now Owen County].

The twenty listed charter members were:

Joshua Baker	John Guill
Martha Baker	Pegg Guill
Charles Brian	John Hammon
Milley Brian	Milly Hammon
Samuel Cobb	William Jones
Sarah Dawney	Dillea Jones
William Eaton	Abraham Robertson
Nancy Eaton	Sarah Robertson
William Francis	Benjamin Robertson
Mary Francis	Mary Robertson

"Milly" Hammon was Mildred Ann Morgan (b. Abt. 1730), the daughter of Major Charles Morgan, Major in the Revolutionary War from Wilkes County, North Carolina, and one of the first magistrates of Lexington, Kentucky. Mildred was the second wife of John Hammon. The first wife is unknown. We had lately learned that John and Mildred Ann Hammon were charter members of this church but what we did not definitely know was that they had come from the Great Crossing Baptist Church. In the book, A History of the Baptist Church at the Stamping Ground, Kentucky by J. W. Singer, 1970 (Library of Congress, Catalogue No. 71-118990) page 5, we are told: "In 1785, Lewis Craig and sixteen others constituted the Baptist Church at Great Crossing, then called Big Crossing, where the old Buffalo Trail crossed North Elkhorn Creek."

Our John Hammon was, in all likelihood, one of the sixteen members who "constituted" the Great Crossing Church since we know that he was in Bryan's Station with the Craigs in 1782 during the Siege. The Great Crossing is roughly twenty miles directly south of Mountain Island. Our John Hammon apparently spent about sixteen to eighteen years near the Great Crossing, from age 22 to near 41.

Owen County, Kentucky was organized in 1819 and its records are intact. According to Spencers History of Kentucky Baptists most of the original members were from Mountain Island Church and mention is made in the minutes that members of the Mountain Island Church came to help them organize. Luke Munsell's Map of Kentucky published in 1834 shows Mountain Island was an island in Eagle Creek in Owen County located just above Gray Fork. This is in the small section of Eagle Creek just after it emerges from Scott County. There is a large hill to the immediate east which probably accounts for the name. The Hammon land was nearer Mountain Island than Mussel Shoals.

John Hammon also resided in Cincinnati, Ohio for a period of time. In his 1835 deposition he states, "Since the Revolution he has resided in Kentucky, Indiana and Ohio, and now resides in Cincinnati, Ohio." In another section he deposes, "Has resided for the last ten years in Cincinnati aforesaid. " Thus, the Cincinnati "residence" would have begun in 1825 but this did not preclude prior residence elsewhere in Ohio and roving visits as indicated by Ohio Militia records. One such document reads as follows:

Due Capt. John Hammon
five pounds eighteen shillings and two pence.

His
Wm. Matthews
Mark

Decr. 7th. 95
£ 5-18-2

The only service of a Captain needed by the militia in any Ohio emergency prior to this date of payment, that I could find, was the battle of Fallen Timbers, fought at the rapids of the Maumee River in northwest Ohio 20 August 1794 under General "Mad" Anthony Wayne. The treaty of Greenville, where the Indians ceded the southeastern part of Ohio, was in August 1795. The militia was called up for this campaign. A captaincy for a man of 34 with six years of military experience was normal and natural. Nor was 16 months delay in the payment unusual in those early times. A cousin of John Hammon also fought in General Anthony Wayne's "Indian Expedition". He was John Hargis, son of John Draper Hargis, who had been an ensign in the 13th Virginia Regiment during the Revolutionary War and was presently residing in Greenup County, Kentucky. As previously mentioned, John Hammon's mother was Mary Hargis.

For at least 21 years, from 1822 to 1843, John Hammon was a resident of Cincinnati. His pension papers designated that his residence began in 1822. It is related in his family that he contracted to build the superstructures of steamboats in nearby Fulton, Ohio, using his many sons as ship carpenters. His published residency in Fulton (now a part of Cincinnati) where the ships were built and his sons being listed as ship carpenters, living with him, certainly indicates that this story is true. The directory listings are:

Shaffer's Cincinnati Directory for 1839-40, Page 423, under "Fulton":
Hammond, John (Ky) Residence near Meth. Church.
Hammond, Elijah (Ky) Ship-carpenter, same address.
Hammond, Wm. (Ky) Ship-carpenter, same address.

Generation 2

Cist's Cincinnati Directory for 1843, page 147:

Hammond, John, follows river, corner Front & Collord.

Hammond, John, carpenter, boards d. Peerson.

The other "John" is no doubt John, Jr., his son. Still another documentation places John and another of his sons in Cincinnati. His last child was Jesse Franklin Hammon, who was born in Owen County, Kentucky on 19 November, 1821. Jesses death notice in the newspapers stated that he was the youngest of a family of twenty-two, all of one father, but having two mothers. Until about eighteen years of age he lived on a farm, then he accompanied his father to Cincinnati and went into business.

Apparently John Hammon worked in Cincinnati building steamboats, and after one or more was completed, without another being scheduled for construction, he and his sons moved 40 miles back to his farm in Owen County where they stayed until another was underway. Perhaps this was what would not be called seasonal work. This commuting was verified by the continual listings in various Owen County records all the while he lived in Cincinnati. For instance, John Hammon is mentioned in the minutes of the Mussel Shoals Baptist Church in Owen County, Kentucky, 1817, 1828, 1839 and 1840. This church celebrated its 150th anniversary in 1967, an event attended by Stratton and Neal Hammon.

He went on with his business in Cincinnati at least eight more years after receiving his pension. How long after the last mention in the Cincinnati directory he continued to conduct his steamboat business, we have no knowledge. He was aged 83 in 1843 when last listed, but even then had 25 years more to live.

Ambrose, son of John Hammon (b. 29 Jan 1760), is last listed in the Cincinnati Directory of 1829 as living at "Front & Ludlow," evidently working with his father and brothers in the steamboat construction business. His wife was named Sally. This is the last child, as far as we know, who was given this name, ancient in our clan. From the first child named until this Ambrose Hammon died or moved away from Cincinnati, for 222 years there had always been a boy carrying this premon in our family. Ambrose also moved back to Owen County Kentucky for his son James was born there in 1830.

Note also that two of John Hammon's (b. 29 Jan 1760) sons were named Thomas and Asa. Neither of these are common to the Hammon family but remember that the maternal grandfather of John Hammon (b. 29 Jan 1760) was Thomas Hargis Sr. (b. Abt. 1700) and the grandfather of Thomas was William Asa Hargis. Hence it seems that these two names came in from the Hargis family.

When John Hammon (b. 29 Jan 1760) got down to naming his 22nd child, he had evidently run out of names used in all the branches of his family and that of his two wives. So he chose the name Jesse Franklin Hammon for that Jesse Franklin who was the outstanding hero of the battle of King's Mountain in which John Hammon (b. 29 Jan 1760) had also fought.

In 1784 this Jesse Franklin was sent to the North Carolina House of Commons from Wilkes County and next from Surry County 1794-1798. Jesse Franklin had entered 100 acres in Wilkes County, N.C. on Mitchell's River in 1779, a year before the battle of King's Mountain. He was a witness to a deed of Benjamin Cleveland 13 Jan. 1787 and finally was sent to the US Congress from another section of North Carolina. Hence Jesse Franklin was a neighbor, a friend of John's commanding officer, a hero in the biggest battle in which John had fought, and in all probability a personal acquaintance. He was also one of the first Abolitionist from a southern state - a fit person for whom to name a child, especially when 21 previous children had consumed all the known and customary names used in the family.

Generation 2

John Hammon finally returned permanently to Owen County, Kentucky, where he lived with daughter Lucinda, Mrs. Zachariah Holbrook, until he died in 1868. His closing years must have reminded him of his youthful years because Owen County was full of strife during the Civil War. He was the second to last Revolutionary War veteran alive.

The following note provided by Jimmie Dayton MAINS, Aug 2000:

A Historical Marker commemorating John HAMMON is at the side of State Highway 1739 near Mussel Shoals Baptist Church and Cemetery about 8 miles East of Owenton, Owen County, KY. (From Owenton, go East on State Highway 22, turn South on State Highway 227, turn East on State Highway 330, turn South on State Highway 845, turn East on State Highway 1739 and go to Dead End where the Marker is located.)

The following note provided by The Kentucky Historical Society was published in the KENTUCKY CONNECT (A Service of the Lexington HERALD-LEADER) Newspaper:

"JOHN HAMMON

(State Marker 1575, Near Mussel Shoals Baptist Church, 8 Mi. E. of Owenton, KY 330, Owen Co.)

"Born in Virginia, 1760, John Hammon was a Revolutionary War soldier. He served in the battle of King's Mountain, and was also a defender of Bryan's Station in Kentucky, 1782. Shortly afterwards, Hammon joined Colonel Benjamin Logan's expedition against Indian towns in Ohio. Helped establish Mussel Shoals Baptist Church in 1817; buried in churchyard. 1868."

Age At Death: (About 80) She was also known as Millie.

He died about 1844 in Owen County, Kentucky, USA.
19. ix. LUCINDA HAMMON⁷³ was born about 1803 in Scott County, Kentucky, USA⁷³. She died in Owen County, Kentucky, USA. She married an unknown spouse about 1829 in Kentucky, USA.
- Notes for Lucinda Hammon:
I cannot find any information on Lucinda. Many list her as having married Zachariah Holbrook, which is not correct. Zachariah would have been 40 years her senior. Also in a conversation between Stratton Owen HAMMON and John HOLBROOK on November 14, 1939, John, who was 90 years old at the time, states his grandfather was Zach Holbrook who married a MORGAN girl who was the sister of John HAMMON, Sr.'s wife. This would have been Susan MORGAN who was the sister of Mildred Ann MORGAN. If Zachariah Holbrook married Lucinda Hammon, I'm certain this would have been stated. There is also a Lucinda who married John Holbrook, but that was Lucinda Roach, not Lucinda Hammon.
- Neal Owen Hammon stated that John Hammon, Sr. died at his daughter's home, that being this Lucinda; however, I cannot find any substantiating evidence for this.
- +20. x. SANFORD HAMMON  ^{60, 74} was born about 1804 in Scott County, Kentucky, USA⁶⁰. He died before 01 Feb 1864. He married SARAH HAMMOND.
21. xi. LINSEY HAMMON⁶⁰ was born after 1805 in Scott County, Kentucky, USA.

She was also known as Lucy.

Notes for Lucinda Hammon:

I have many concerns about this family group, the children in particular. Many show several of the children's parents as James Dawson and Lucinda McCann. Lucinda Hammon did marry a James Dawson in Mercer County, Kentucky on October 18, 1820 ... that is documented. Here are the issues:

Susan - parents: James Dawson & Lucinda Hammon
James - parents: James Dawson & Lucinda Hammon
Eliza - parents: James Dawson & Lucinda Hammon
Mary - parents: James Dawson & Lucinda McCann
George parents: James Dawson & Lucinda Hammon
Sarah - parents: James Dawson & Lucinda McCann
Alvina - parents: James Dawson & Lucinda McCann
Mariam - parents: James Dawson & Lucinda McCann

Are Lucinda Hammon and Lucinda McCann the same person? I don't think so. I have not found any evidence that suggests Lucinda Hammon married a McCann prior to James or after the death of James. Alvina and Mariam's death certificates show their mother at Lucinda McCann. The recorder is at the mercy of the informant, who may have gotten it wrong. At this point I think Lucinda McCann is wrong, but until I can find proof I have decided not to continue with this family group.

Residence Notes:

She is living in the household of her daughter Alvina and her husband Thomas Jones.

Son George is living with them.

She is living in the household of her daughter Eliza and her husband Mr. Shonse (first name is not legible).

Notes for Ambrose Hammon:
Twin of Robert.

The 1830 census shows 5 individuals who are of "childhood age" in the household. Names of household members are not listed in census reports until 1850.

The following information provided by Neal Owen HAMMON. It was originally intended to be a part of Chapter 3 of his unpublished book entitled: "The HAM(M)ON(D) Name":

Ambrose, son of John Hammon (29 Jan 1760), is last listed in the Cincinnati Directory of 1829 as living at "Front & Ludlow," evidently working with his father and brothers in the steamboat construction business. His wife was named Sally. This is the last child, as far as we know, who was given this name, ancient in our clan. From the first child named until this Ambrose Hammon died or moved away from Cincinnati, for 222 years there had always been a boy carrying this premon in our family. Ambrose also moved back to Owen County, Kentucky for his son James was born there in 1830

Generation 3

In an interview of William Alexander Hammon, grandson of Robert, taken by Stratton Owen Hammon on November 14, 1939, the following has been extracted concerning Robert Hammon:

Nov. 14th, 1939

Conversation between Stratton O. Hammon and William Alexander Hammon on Old Squire (George) Hammon Farm, Owen county Kentucky:

William Alexander Hammon was born May 10th, 1864. Son of William Hammon, Son of Robert Hammon (brother of Jesse Franklin Hammon), son of John Hammon

Other brothers: Colby, Ambrose, William (died in Louisville), Elizah, John

George W. Hammon had brother known as Jim Crow Hammon. (Who was almost seven feet tall)

Lewis Hammon was a half-brother to Jesse F. Hammon.

Question: If Lewis (~1793-1872) and Jesse Franklin Hammon (1821-1893) were half-brothers, were Robert and Jesse Franklin half-brothers?

The find in the 1870 census comes with uncertainty.)

Notes for Elizabeth Hammon:

Generation 3

Thomas Morgan was Elizabeth Hammon's uncle.

The following note provided by Richard Sharpe, Nov 2006:

Elizabeth is suspected to be the Elizabeth, daughter of John and Mildred Hammon, who married Thomas Morgan abt. 1820 in Owen Co. for the following reasons:

(1) Elizabeth took her family to the Cincinnati area in 1850 after Thomas died and are living near the Hammons (Thomas (b. ca 1795 and William (b. ca 1810) there, who were sons of John and Mildred. One of Elizabeth's sons, Ambrose, was living with one of these sons, William Hammon. I would imagine that the Hammons were instrumental in convincing Elizabeth to bring her family to Cincinnati for work. It's also interesting to note that John and Mildred Hammon and these two sons were listed in the same place in 1840, e.g.:

1840 HAMILTON CO., OH CENSUS - Fulton Twp. - pg. 436 -

John Hamonds - 1 male 20-29; 1 male 40-49; 1 male 80-89; 1 female 5-9; 1 female 40-49; 1 female 60-69

(Listed on same page are his sons, Thomas, age 40-49 and William, age 20-29)

(2) Elizabeth's age matches perfectly with the Elizabeth born in 1803 to John and Mildred, per Fred Lager AWT.

(3) Colby, another son of John and Mildred, was living next to Thomas and Elizabeth in the 1840 Owen census.

(4) As mentioned above, Elizabeth named one of her sons, Ambrose, another son of John and Mildred Hammon.

The censuses for our Elizabeth are the following:

1850 HAMILTON CO. OH CENSUS - Fulton Twp., p. 211

John Morgan, age 23, male, born in KY, laborer, R.E. $50.

Elizabeth Morgan, age 52, female, born in KY

Parmelia Morgan, age 17, female, born in KY

Sarah Morgan, age 16, female, born in KY

Susan Morgan, age 10, female, born in KY

1850 HAMILTON CO., OH CENSUS - Fulton Twp. - pg. 210

Ambrose Morgan, age 21, laborer, born in Kentucky, living with a William Hammon family.

NOTE: Fulton Township no longer exists but it encompassed land between Walnut Hills and the Ohio River which constituted the southern part of the city of Cincinnati. At that time ship building was a major business. Source: Hamilton County Librarian.

1860 OWEN CO. KY CENSUS - Owenton Twp., Dated June 16 - p. 51

(Living beside William and Sarah Sharpe)

John Morgan, age 36, male, born in KY, engineer, R.E. $600., P.E. $25.

Laura A. Morgan, age 27, female, born in KY

Thomas J. Morgan, age 3, male, born in KY

William A. Morgan, age 8/12, male, born in KY

Elizabeth Morgan, age 57, female, born in KY

Susan Morgan, age 20, female, born in KY

George W. Morgan, age 8, male, born in KY

For some reason they moved back to Owen County, KY, their birthplace by 1860 and were living next to William and Sarah (Morgan) Sharpe (my g-grandparents).

According to her younger brother's (Jesse Franklin Hammon) obituary, she lived to be 103 years of age.

Jesse Stamper^{67, 69} lived in Wilkes County, North Carolina, USA in 1800⁴⁴⁶. Age At Death: (about 62)

Notes for Jesse Stamper:

Jesse's brother Jonathan is somewhat speculative and needs more documentation.. They are listed on the 1820 census and near to Jesse and it is assumed they are his kin. They are both about the same age. Jacob is listed also, and he is a generation older.

Jesse is also found in Pendleton County which is about 40 miles due east of Owen County in 1810. Jesse is listed as head of family but there are 2 males age 26-44 listed and 2 females age 26-44 also listed. There are 7 boys under age 10 listed in the household. It is assumed that Jonathon and his wife are the other couple but Jesse is listed as head of household. Next door is Jacob Stamper aged 45+ with 1 girl 10-15 and 1 girl aged 16-25. There is a woman aged 45+ in Jacob's home.

Is Jephtha Jesse Stamper and Jesse Holbrook Stamper the same individual? Some data shows they could be yet others show they are not. Until further clarification I will show him as Jesse Stamper.

Mary Hammon and Jesse Stamper had the following children:

Notes for Jesse Franklin Hammon:

The following information provided by Neal Owen HAMMON. It was originally intended to be a part of Chapter 3 of his unpublished book entitled: "The HAM(M)ON(D) Name":

When John Hammon (b. 29 Jan 1760) got down to naming his 22nd child, he had evidently run out of names used in all the branches of his family and that of his two wives. So he chose the name Jesse Franklin Hammon for that Jesse Franklin who was the outstanding hero of the battle of King's Mountain in which John Hammon (b. 29 Jan 1760) had also fought.

Generation 3

In 1784 this Jesse Franklin was sent to the North Carolina House of Commons from Wilkes County and next from Surry County 1794-1798. Jesse Franklin had entered 100 acres in Wilkes County, N.C. on Mitchell's River in 1779, a year before the battle of King's Mountain. He was a witness to a deed of Benjamin Cleveland 13 Jan. 1787 and finally was sent to the US Congress from another section of North Carolina. Hence Jesse Franklin was a neighbor, a friend of John's commanding officer, a hero in the biggest battle in which John had fought, and in all probability a personal acquaintance. He was also one of the first Abolitionist from a southern state - a fit person for whom to name a child, especially when 21 previous children had consumed all the known and customary names used in the family.

According to his death notice Jesse Franklin Hammon (b. 19 Nov 1821) moved to Cincinnati in 1839, when he was 18 years old, where he assisted his father in the steam-boat building business. Only two years later, in July 1841, he was married in Cincinnati to Martha Ann Paget of Louisville. The Cincinnati records were burned but this documentation is to be found in the Louisville court records of litigation following the death of his wife's mother in June 1842.

Jesse Franklin Hammon and his young bride moved to Louisville, where Jesse continued on in the steamboat building business for a while before turning to other business enterprises. For a time he kept a tavern and owned several gambling houses. He was also a policeman and later a lawyer. It was said, "As a lawyer Colonel Hammon was very active in behalf of his clients."

During the Civil War, Jesse Hammon served as an officer in the State Militia. The activities of Captain Jesse Franklin Hammon, commander of the Thurston Guards, is covered by Stoddard Johnson, Memorial History of Louisville, Volume 1, page 167. According to this source, when the Confederate Army under Bragg threatened Louisville, the "Home guard" was activated on 17 Sept 1861 and marched south to defend a line running from the railroad at Lebanon Junction to West Point on the Ohio river. The leading Confederate detachments ran upon this force of approximately eight thousand men, and decided to halt on their march to Louisville. Later the regular Union forces encountered the Confederate army at Perryville, but the Louisville "home guard" was not in this battle.

In the Filson Club History Quarterly, Vol 62, April 1988, there appears a photograph on page 238, showing the "Kentucky Delegation to the Funeral of Abraham Lincoln." In the center near the bottom row is shown "30. Maj. Hammond", in uniform. I believe this to be Jesse Hammon, who was a captain several years before, as noted above.

Jesse and Martha Ann had two sons and a daughter. The second son, Charles Franklin Hammon, named his own first son simply, John Hammon, after the old veteran of King's Mountain, then deceased only four years.

The best account of the life of my great-grandfather Jesse Franklin Hammon (b. 19 Nov 1821) are to be found in his death notices. These occupied two columns on the front page of the Louisville Times, Friday Evening 22 December 1893, (Vol. XX, No. 45) with an editorial on Page 4. The Courier-Journal followed on 23 December 1893 with two columns on page 4 (Vol. XXCI, New Series No. 9124). The Louisville Commercial of Saturday 23 December 1893 devoted a column on page 3. These three articles carried a wood-cut picture. There was a notice in the Courier-Journal of Sunday 24 December 1893 (Vol. XXCI, New Series No. 9125) and finally almost a year later, on 20 December 1894 a poem in memorium was published, which is important because it was by the celebrated Will S. Hays. All these newspapers are available at the Public Library.

Since they are rather long and mostly repetitious I will give one in its entirety and then quote any additional information from the others. That from the front page of the Louisville Times of 22 December 1893 reads as follows:

DEATH OF JESSE HAMMON

Grip Carries Off a Well-known Local Figure Exposure on Wednesday Leads to Fatal Results This Morning

Deceased Had a Long, Varied and Interesting Career.

SKETCH OF HIS LIFE

Jesse Hammon is dead!. This was an announcement that was made this morning and which spread rapidly, causing many expressions of regret among his friends and calling up a long train of memories. Col. Hammon had a long, varied and eventful career, and was well known here, where he had spent over 50 years of his life.

The news of his death found his acquaintances totally unprepared for it, for only about three days ago he was on the street looking in his accustomed health and strength. The fatal summons was even unexpected to the members of his family and was a great shock to them.

Death occurred about 8:15 O'clock this morning at the residence, 1123 Preston Street, corner of Jacob, and was caused by la grippe. It had been Col. Hammon's custom to ride to the City Hall every morning on the Broadway electric car, but on Wednesday morning Doc Kuhn, guard of the No. 1 police patrol, hailed him as he left his home and had him ride in the wagon. The atmosphere was cold and crisp, and the conveyance being open to the weather Col. Hammon was pretty well chilled when he reached Sixth and Jefferson Streets. He felt the effects all day, and that evening while sitting in his dining room at home reading the afternoon paper he was seized with a dizzy spell, which almost caused him to fall to the floor.

He was put to bed and received medical attention. Fever followed and his condition grew worse gradually, still the family was not alarmed. Last night Col. Hammon was delirious and practiced law all through the hours till morning, when the fever abated, and he appeared to be somewhat better. So improved was his condition, apparently, that his stepson, Mr. William F. Hamilton, went to his work little thinking that within an hour he would be summoned home by the call of death.

Col. Hammon, however, seemed to appreciate that he was in a very bad condition, and to his wife spoke of dying. To this she replied: "God be merciful," and her husband responded, "Amen." This was the last word he spoke, as he immediately became unconscious and quickly lapsed into his long sleep. The full name of the deceased was Jesse F. Hammon. He was born November 19, 1821, in Owen County, and passed his seventy-second birthday about a month ago. He was the youngest of a family of twenty-two, all of one father, but having two different mothers.

Until he was about eighteen years of age he lived on a farm. Then he accompanied his father, who moved to Cincinnati and went into business. The latter lived to the remarkable age of 108, and died only a few years ago [if 25 years is considered a few]. Col. Hammon's sister Mrs. Bettie Morgan, reached the advanced age of 103. His oldest brother was ninety when he died. Col. Hammon was the last of his father's family to go. He leaves, beside his wife and three stepchildren, two sons and two daughters by his first wife. They are Charles and Edward, the latter living in Chicago: Mrs. Peter Thomas and Miss Jennie Hammon. He was the grandfather of nine children.

His first marriage took place in Cincinnati, and he was a widower several years, about fifteen years ago, he married Mrs. Lucy Hamilton, who, as stated survives him.

Generation 3

Col. Hammon came to this city from Cincinnati about 1835. He was a ship carpenter, then a butcher and later became a member of the police force when the guardians of the public peace numbered less than a dozen. About 1851 he became a member of the Lafayette Fire Company, No. 8, which was located on Main, above Shelby, where the present fire company, No. 3 has its quarters. Col. Hammon continued on the police force up to and after the breaking out of the civil war, and rose to the rank of Lieutenant. During hostilities he was in the Thruston Guards, which was a home organization.

The deceased was best known to the people here as a member of the gambling fraternity, in which he was a prominent figure in its palmy days, dating from about the close of the war until the suppression about eight or nine years ago. Col. Hammon got into it at a time when social conditions had become demoralized by the effects of the war. He was also at that time considerably reduced in health and the field of chance was an inviting one.

When he found his old occupation gone, he turned to the law. Mr. Aaron Kohn allowed him the use of his library and he soon began to practice at the City Court Bar. About the same time Col. Hammon returned to the church in which during the earlier years he had been a class leader and exhorter. He resumed his religious life under the ministrations of Rev. Steve Holcombe, and when the latter resigned his charge of the mission here to go north to work in another field, Col. Hammon was prominently mentioned as his successor. He was not called, however, and continued practicing his profession. He joined the Broadway Methodist church after graduating from the mission and was a regular attendant there. He frequently took part in mission work, addressing those who were seeking spiritual comfort.

As a lawyer Col. Hammon was very active in behalf of his clients and was one of the leading practitioners at the City Court Bar. Lately the scramble for the business of the court became distasteful to him and had he lived he would very probably have secured a position in the employ of the city. Several influential friends were at work for him in this direction.

Everyone who knew him had a kind word to say for "Uncle Jesse" as he was affectionately called by some. He was a man of very generous impulses and active sympathies. No distress came under his notice that his charity did not respond to it if he could lend a helping hand.

During the war, while he was a member of the police force, he shot and killed a soldier named Munday while in the discharge of his duty. He was a man of strong physique, and had an eye which denoted courage. His face was square-cut, and showed determination and strength in every line. His voice was deep and resonant.

The funeral will take place Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Broadway Methodist Church. Col. Hammon in his early years was an Odd Fellow, but at the time of his death was not the member of any secret order.

The account in the Courier-Journal of 23 December 1893 reiterated the above and had only the following items in addition:

During his service on the police force he met with some very exciting experiences, serving during the Civil War. In 1858 the Joyce family were murdered by five colored men, who were arrested and placed in jail. One night they were taken out and hanged in the courthouse yard. Mr. Hammon, with a light in his hand rushed to the foot of the jail steps just in time to see one of the five men cut his own throat, the body tumbling down the steps at his feet.

He had well defined ideas of justice and spoke his opinions freely. Every afternoon he sat around the City Hall talking with his old friends, and it was a rare day indeed when he could not be seen at least for a few minutes in Schnell's barber-shop, above Third on Jefferson Street.

The column in The Louisville Commercial of 23 December 1893 also reiterated and added the following information:

Early in life he studied for the ministry. During the war when serving in that capacity (Lieutenant of Police) he was at the corner of Shelby and Main Streets. A drunken soldier named Munday on horseback came charging down upon him with a drawn saber. Mr. Hammond procured a shotgun and blew the soldier's head off. He was noted for his desperate courage in a fight, and never went after a man but he captured him.

At the close of the war he became a gambler and was interested in many prominent houses during the palmy days of gambling. He made a great deal of money in this way, but it came easy and he spent it with a lavish hand. He gave freely to the poor, and no one ever applied to him for help and was refused. During the close of gambling he conducted a keno game on Green Street (now Liberty), between Third and Fourth, and afterward opened one in Jeffersonville.

Some nonsense found its way into these accounts. The Louisville Commercial spelled our name "Hammond," and another paper stated that he was of mixed Scotch-Irish and German ancestry, of which there is not one iota of evidence. One notice stated that he first came to Louisville in 1835. If so he was only 14 years old at the time; other accounts say that he remained on the farm until he was 18. His family, especially Martha Hammon Robertson, told many vivid anecdotes regarding him and stated that Stratton Hammon looked and acted like him.

In an Old Circuit and Common Law case of Jefferson County, Ky. No. 19674 involving the heirs of Jesse Franklin Hammon's (b. 19 Nov 1821) wife's mother (See the chapter on the Paget family) it is mentioned that Jesse and Martha Ann Paget (b. Abt. 1827) were married in Cincinnati in July 1841; Jesse was 20 years old at the time and Martha Ann evidently about 18.

The first appearance of Jesse F. Hammon (b. 19 Nov 1821) in the Louisville records was an order he signed which reads as follows:

In obedience to an order of the Honorable County Court the following report is made in addition to the one made 15th October 1842. Three notes herein enclosed were reported in the former report and subsequently they were placed in my hands for collection.

The chattels and goods of the estate of M. Paget were sold according to law, as stated in my former report, the account of sales accompanying it. (Investories and Settled Accounts, Book No. 12, p. 136, Jefferson Co. Kentucky.)

Two of the three notes mentioned had the joint signature of Jesse Hammon and Joseph F. Wright. The latter was a relative of Margaret Wright Paget (b. Abt. 1791), mother of Martha Ann Paget Hammon (b. Abt. 1827), who had died 11 June 1842 intestate. The heirs of Margaret Wright Paget became involved in a lawsuit which has the signatures and depositions of Jesse F. Hammon (b. 19 Nov 1821) from time to time but it is of greatest interest to the Paget family and will be given in detail in that chapter since it serves to untangle the various relationships in that family.

In the Haldeman's Directory of Louisville, 1844-5, Jesse Hammond is listed as a "shipwright" on Fulton Street at Murray's yard. During this period, on 9 September 1845, my grandfather Charles Franklin Hammon was born to Jesse and Martha Ann. Exactly where they were living I do not know except that Collin's Louisville Directory of 1848 lists "Jesse Hammond, ship's carpenter" as living "above the Mansion House." The Mansion House was the name for his mother-in-law's place, which had by 1848 been acquired by his sister-in-law Matilda Paget Moody. This is verified in Jeglis Louisville Directory 1848-9 which lists "Jesse Hammon, ship carpenter, Fulton above Cabel," which is the location of the Mansion House. The house is still standing at this writing. It has two and a half stories, hence Jesse and Martha could have been living on the second or third floors, probably the second floor since the third floor was intended for the slaves. The house is large and has a two story wing to the rear and could therefore accommodate two families easily and comfortably, each with separate entrances.

In 1847 Jesse F. Hammon (b. 19 Nov 1821) and Martha Ann Paget Hammon (b. Abt. 1827) appear in the records thus:

This indenture made and entered into 26th day of July 1847 by and between Jesse F. Hammon and Martha Ann his wife of Louisville, Kentucky of the first part and Matilda Paget of the same place of the second part.

Witnesseth: that the parties of the first part for and in consideration of the sum of $35.00 cash in hand have sold to the said Matilda Paget all of their interest in that lot of land in Louisville situated on the south side of Lafayette St. between Floyd and Preston St. and which was lately recovered in ejectment by Martha Wright's heirs of the heirs of [English] Smith & the same lot which was settled on the said Martha by deed of record in the clerk's office of Jefferson County just before her marriage with the said Smith ..

On 1 November 1854 Eli Vansickles deeds a lot to "Jesse F. Hammond and his wife Martha Ann" on the south side of Fulton Street 315 feet west of Monroe Street for $400.00. In this same year William Howard sued Jesse for slander for calling him a thief and asked $5,000 damages. There is no evidence that the case was ever tried.

Hurd & Burrows Louisville Directory of 1858 lists, "Jesse Hammond, police officer, residence north side of Main, between Shelby and Campbell. By chance he was living only one block from Godfried Miller VI-6, who was at this time also living on Main Street. By the following year Jesse had gone into business for Tanners Louisville Directory, 1859-60 carries the information, "Jesse Hammond, coffee house, south side of Main between Shelby and Campbell." His business was just across the street from his house.

In a suit one Fisher claims that one Bollyn sold a large lot of tenpin furniture, balls, and pins to Jesse Hammon and that these were from Woodland Gardens which was under lease to Bollyn at the time of the sale. Woodland Gardens was a famous old recreation park which was situated about where the Bourbon Stockyards were later located. Another court case established that Jesse Hammon owned a coffee shop on the south side of Main Street between Shelby and Campbell in that year and lived on South Fulton Street between Ohio River and Marien Street. This could still be the Mansion House. By 1861 Tanners Louisville Directory lists him as a policeman living at 809 East Main Street.

The Edwards Annual Directory of Louisville 1865-66 has, "Jesse F. Hammon, police, residence 153 Shelby, between Washington and Franklin." His two sons, Charles was now 20 years old, are listed here with him. Strangely, Williamson's Annual Directory 1865, notes, "Jesse Hammond, policeman, residence 157 East Market St." Edwards Directory of the City of Louisville, 1867, 68 shows Jesse Hammon as owning a saloon, with his residence being at 396 Madison. Four years later in Carons Louisville Directory, 1871, Jesse is still listed as living at "394 Madison, between Campbell and Wenzel," his sons Charles and Edward are listed as living with him. Charles F. Hammon (b. 9 Sep 1845) married Barbara Miller (b. 11 Jul 1852) the following year. Carons Louisville Directory, 1872, gives us, "J. F. Hammond, merchant, residence 148 Madison near Preston."

On 16 October 1883 Charles A. O'Bryan deeded to J. F. Hammon and Lucy, his wife, a house on the south side of Gray Street between First and Second Streets for $3,500. This house was a fine two and a half story solid brick which stood in good condition until it was torn down a few years ago. Note that Martha Ann Paget Hammon (b. Abt. 1827) had by this date died and Jesse had remarried the widow Lucy Hamilton. They did not move into the Gray Street house at once for Carons Louisville Directory, 1884, lists, "Jesse F. Hammon, residence 232 East Green Street." This street was renamed "Liberty" during World War I.

Evidently Jesse was now at the peak of his gambling days for the Gray Street house is put up as security for notes many times in the next few years, once to J.R. Watts of the Turf Exchange to secure a $10,000 note. Carons Louisville Directory 1885 shows, "Jesse F. Hammon, residence 108 West Gray," so he had by then moved into his large Gray Street house. They stayed there until January 1888 since the house was used in that month as security for still another note, but a few months later the Carons Louisville Directory 1888 lists, "Jesse F. Hammon, lawyer, 404 Center, residence 319 East Jacob." At age 67 he was launched on his new professional career.

Jesse must have been a good gambler since he never failed to repay the many notes he secured with the Gray Street house. Conversely three houses were deeded to Jesse or his wife due to failure to repay loans which he had made and which were secured by liens on the houses. One was on Jacob Street another at 16th and O'Hara Streets and still another on Oak Street. One of his granddaughters told me that she had seen him come home at night with a whole hat full of money and dump it on the dining room table.

Although Jesse and Lucy moved out of the Gray Street house in 1888 they did not sell it until 1892, a year before his death. It was sold to S.V. Chamberlin for $4,240.

Jesse Franklin Hammon (b. 19 Nov 1821) and Martha Ann Paget Hammon (b. Abt. 1827) had three children as follows, but we have no records to tell the order in which they were born:

Edward S. Hammon, who was never married, in his early days was a steamboat captain. He is listed as living in Chicago at the time of his father's death. I suspect his connection there was with the Chicago Stockyards, since at least one of his nephews is known to have been connected with the stockyard there and half dozen more, plus his brother, were involved in the stockyards here in Louisville. Even to this day his grandnephew Harold Hammon, is an official in a packing company in Louisville.

Charles Franklin Hammon (b. 9 Sep 1845) born in Louisville, Kentucky 9 September 1845 (his daughter Martha has the same birth day but in 1846).

His sister, Frances Hammon, married Peter Thomas in Louisville, Kentucky and had 18 children, ---

The following notes pertaining to Jesse Franklin HAMMON are extracted from Stratton Owen HAMMON's book entitled: "John HAMMON, Revolutionary Soldier and Kentucky Pioneer":

"Of this period of Jesse Franklin Hammon's life, the Courier-Journal later stated: "While a boy he lived on a farm with his twenty-two brothers and sisters, of whom he was the youngest. At the age of eighteen he left the farm and went with his father to Cincinnati where they engaged in business. His father had been engaged in that business for 14 years when Jesse became 18. What was meant was that Jesse went along when his father returned to Cincinnati, for John never moved his family from the farm in Owen County but instead commuted back and forth at intervals. John is mentioned in the church minutes in Owen County in 1828, 1839, and 1840, and then again in the Cincinnati directory in 1843. By this time he was 83 years old.

"In 1841, while young Jesse was working for his father, he met and fell in love with a beautiful girl who had been sent from her home in Louisville to a school in Cincinnati. She was Martha Ann Paget, granddaughter of John Wright who removed from Fauquier County, Virginia, to Jefferson County, Kentucky, in 1792 and who was the great-great-grandson of Major Francis Wright and Ann Washington. Martha's parents refused their permission for a marriage because of her youth. The young couple promptly eloped. They returned to Louisville where Jesse at first continued to build steamboats; later he became Captain of the Thruston Guards during the Civil War; next studied law and opened his office on Center Street (now Armory Place); and after some years became judge. Jesse and Martha have scores of descendants in Jefferson County today."

From Find A Grave Memorial Site:

Jesse F. Hammon died in December 1893 of unknown causes. His funeral was held at Broadway Methodist Church, Louisville, Kentucky. Numerous Louisville government officials of Police Court and the Louisville Police Department attended his funeral and acted as pallbearers.

He was a member of the Louisville Police Department from 1851 until sometime after 1870. When he was employed with the department the position was referred to as watchman.

Owen County Marriages as performed by Asa Cobb 1848-1851 lists their marriage date as 23 Mar 1847.

The following is a piece taken from information given to me by Neal Owen Hammon, from a overview written by his father, Stratton Owen Hammon, concerning James and his brother George. This was an interview with William Alexander Hammon (1864-1943) on 13-Feb-1939.

He said that Ambrose, son of John Hammon VI-32 has sons George W., born 1822, died 1875 called "Squire" as he was wealthy (George had son John), and James called "Jim Crow" born 1830, died 1864, (James had son Alonzo). "Jim Crow" was almost 7 feet tall and fought a bush-whacking war against the Union troops in Owen County and the Home Guard from Grant County. At one time this "Jim Crow" tried to steal 100 rifles from the camp of sleeping union troops but could not carry all of them and was discovered. In the ensuing fight four or five Union troopers were killed. This was in revenge for the Union Army burning his sister's house." "Jim Crow" was fatally shot by a cousin named Stamper in 1864.

Notes for William A Hammon:

There is a Find A Grave memorial to a W.A. Hammon (b: 27 Jan 1849; d: 20 Sep 1880) at Mussel Shoals Cemetery. Is this him? I believe it is and have added the information from this website to his name with the thought that it could be incorrect and therefore is considered questionable.

He does not appear to have ever married.

Notes for James Hammon:

The following is a piece taken from information given to me by Neal Owen Hammon, from a overview written by his father, Stratton Owen Hammon, concerning James and his brother George. This was an interview with William Alexander Hammon (1864-1943) on 13-Feb-1939.

He said that Ambrose, son of John Hammon has sons George W., born 1822, died 1875 called "Squire" as he was wealthy (George had son John), and James called "Jim Crow" born 1830, died 1864, (James had son Alonzo). "Jim Crow" was almost 7 feet tall and fought a bush-whacking war against the Union troops in Owen County and the Home Guard from Grant County. At one time this "Jim Crow" tried to steal 100 rifles from the camp of sleeping union troops but could not carry all of them and was discovered. In the ensuing fight four or five Union troopers were killed. This was in revenge for the Union Army burning his sister's house." "Jim Crow" was fatally shot by a cousin named Stamper in 1864.

Age At Death: (about 53) She was also known as Sallie.

Notes for Sarah Ann Gaines 3:

There are several members of the Gaines family who currently reside in Covington County. Some researching the family have been able to trace their Gaines lineage back to Brychon, King of Wales, who reigned during the early years of the fifth century. The earliest known home of the Gaines ancestors was in Brecon City, Wales. The name remained as Gam for several generations, and it then underwent a number of changes in spelling: Ganes, Gaynes, and finally Gaines.

The name Gaines has a rather peculiar origin. One David Gam was given this name due to his having a physical defect of a squinted eye. The name has been quite illustrious with its association with members of royalty. One of these was David of Llewellyn, who dates back to Llewellyn the Great, an immortal name in Welch history.

The earliest Gaines ancestor to be identified to date is Llewellyn Gam who was born circa 1330 in the Country of England. He later moved into Wales where he was residing at the time of his death. He was married to Mawd, daughter of Leuan. Among their children was a son, Sir Davydd Gam, who was born circa 1351 in Wales and who died in 1415 in France. He actually saved the life of King Henry V on the field of battle at Agincourt.

Sir Davydd had a son, Morgan Gam, who was married to Talngwsti, daughter of Maredudd. They were all natives of Wales with Morgan and Talngwsti marrying in Newton Brecon. They had a son, Llen Gam, who was born in 1450. Llen then had a son, John Gaines (Note altering of name.), who was born in 1519 and who was married to Jane Ales Havard. John and Jane reared a son, Sir John Gaines, who was born in 1559 and who died in 1606, both occurring in Newton Brecon, Wales.

Sir John Gaines was married to Elizabeth Games, and they reared the following six children:

Generation 4

Catherine, b. 1581; Thomas, b. 1584, d. 1840, m. Blanch Remis; John III, b. 1585; Walter, b. 1587; William Richard, b. 1592; and Elizabeth, b. 1596. Thomas Gaines is the son who came to America and whose line this writing will follow. He was considered to be of royalty status. He was married in Brecon, Wales, to Blanch Kemis, and they reared their seven children in that country: Thomas J., b. 1623, d. ca 1699; Captain Daniel, b. ca 1623, d. ca 1690, m. Margaret Benard (1605-1690); Francis, b. 1624, d. 1722, m. Elizabeth Lawson; James, b. ca 1625; Robert, b. ca 1626, d. ca 1716; Catherine, b. ca 1628, d. 1722; and Richard, b. ca 1630. Records indicate Thomas and his family immigrated to America in 1634 aboard the ship The Ark and The Dove. They were traveling with Governor Leonard Calvert and landed in Maryland. By 1650, six member of the Gaines family had settled in the Virginia Colony.

Robert Gaines, son of Thomas Gaines, acquired 186 acres of land in Old Rappahannock, Virginia, in 1664. He was born circa 1626 and died in Virginia circa 1716. The name of his wife is not known, and the only son to be identified is Richard Gaines, b. 1690, d. 1750 in Culpepper County, Va., m. Dorothy "Dorothy" ?. Among their children was a son, Heirome (Hiram) Gaines Sr.

Hiram Gaines Sr. was born in 1730 in Albemarle County, Virginia, and died in 1806 in Elbert County, Georgia. He was married in Virginia to Margaret "Peggy" Taliaferro (1732-1773). She died in Virginia before the family moved to Georgia. It appears that Hiram Sr. and his son, Hiram Jr., rendered service in the Continental Army. They were both listed as participating in the Georgia Land Lottery in 1806, and that date is the last date Hiram Sr.'s name appears in public records. Other Gaines relatives participated in the lottery as well, and at least Hiram Jr. won acreage in Elbert County, Ga., where the family later settled.

Hiram Gaines Sr. and his wife, Peggy, reared the following children: Hiram Jr., d. 1815, m. 1792 Ann Thompson; Richard, b. 1752, m. Ann Garth; Humphrey, b. 1755, m. 1779 Martha Bowen; William Shanklin, b. 1757, m. 1785 Milly Banks; Ann Pittman, b. 1758, m. ca 1765 David Nimmo; Francis, b. 1759, m. Judy Lively; Henry, b. 1761, m. Martha White; and Martha, b. 1762, m. Henry Harper.

The son, Frances Gaines, also served during the Revolutionary War circa 1776 and received land grants for his service. In 1784, he owned 400 acres of land of the North Fork of Buck Island Creek in Albemarle County, Va. A few years later in 1788, he moved to Wilkes County, Ga. His brother Henry who rendered service had a land grant in that area in 1886. In 1790, Francis was listed on the tax record for Elbert County. In 1795, he owned a land grant of 200 acres in that county. He signed his will in 1825 and died later that year. He was buried in the Francis Gaines Cemetery there in Elbert County.

Circa 1780, Francis was married to Judy Lively who was born circa 1760 in Albemarle County. They reared the following children: Robert Taliaferro, b. 1781, d. 1860, m. Sarah "Sally" Alexander; Polly Hill, b. 1783; Richard Strother, b. 1784, d. 1870 in Hart Co., Ga.; Levington Pryor, b. 1785, d. 1824; Milly Lewis, b. 1786, d. 1825; James, b. ca 1792; and Judy Barnett, b. ca 1792.

The lineage of this Gaines family will be extended a few additional generations in next week's column. Also, the descendants who brought the family to Covington County will be introduced. A current descendant, Richard Michael Ayers, has done extensive research, which he has shared for this genealogy feature. Appreciation is expressed to him for making this available to his relatives and the readers of this column. His records are the source for this writing. Anyone who might have any correction to the above or additional information on the Gaines family is requested to contact this writer, Curtis Thomasson, at 20357 Blake Pruitt Road, Andalusia, AL 36420; 334-222-6467; or email: cthomasson@centurytel.net.

Notes for Jesse B Stamper:

The relationship between Jesse and Mabel is interesting. They were married in 1888 and this was her 2nd marriage. She first married Frank Rider BIRDSDALL, then Jesse, and lastly Elbert Lafayette ASHCRAFT in 1907. The 1900 census has Jesse living alone and also states he is married and has been for 11 years. It appears they were separated by 1900. She is found in newspaper accounts as Mrs. Jesse Stamper and on January 16, 1891 she starts a Shorthand School in College Mound, Macon County, Missouri. On January 3, 1896 she leaves Missouri for Kentucky where she is to teach at a college. The city and college names are not listed.

Notes for Colby Henry Hammon Jr. ~~XX~~:

Note concerning son Elija J. and Elizabeth G. The 1870 census lists the children as Elizabeth G (age 2) and Rebecca (age 1). It does not list Elija, who according to the 1880 census was born in about 1868 and should have been in the 1870 census. the 1880 census lists the children as Elija J. (age 12), Rebecca (age 10), Louisa (age 7), James (age 4), and John D. (age 5 months). Where is Elizabeth? Is she dead? Why wasn't Elija in the 1870 census. Elija and Elizabeth are not the same person as the 1870 census clearly states it is Elizabeth (not Eliza.) and she is female, while the 1880 census clearly states Elija is a male.

Generation 4

Notes for James William Hammon:

James William and George W.A.'s death dates are both listed as December 21, 1920. Did they die together in an accident or is this a mistake? I believe it is in error. George's death is established, but James' is not.

James and America were married at Robert Hammon's place. This could be his uncle Robert (my 4th great grandfather). The certificate states he is 20 years old and she is 24 years old.

Notes for Charles Franklin Hammon Sr.:

The following information provided by Neal Owen HAMMON. It was originally intended to be a part of Chapter 3 of his unpublished book entitled: "The HAM(M)ON(D) Name":

Charles Franklin Hammon (b. 9 Sep 1845) was born in Louisville, Kentucky, on 9 September 1845, in all probability in the "Mansion House" erected by his grandmother Margaret Wright Paget (b. Abt. 1791) in 1838. Of his early life and education we know nothing at all. He was named for his father's maternal grandfather, Charles Morgan VII-62.

Charles Hammon is listed in the Edwards Annual Directory of Louisville in 1865 and 1867 and again in the Carons Louisville Directory of 1871 as living with his parents at their addresses given above. In the Carons Louisville Directory 1872 is listed "Charles Hammond, carpenter, boards Main southwest corner of Preston".

On 12 February 1872 he married Barbara Miller (b. 11 Jul 1852) at St. Boniface's Catholic Church at Jackson and Fehr Streets by "M. Power" and the witnesses were Jacob Joran and Jenny Hammon, his adopted sister. Charles was Protestant and Barbara was Catholic. His daughter, Martha Hammon Robertson, told Stratton Hammon that the priest began to work on Charles at the time of the wedding regarding the way he wanted the children brought up and Charles answered that he would cross that bridge when they came to it. Barbara did attempt to bring her children up in the Catholic faith, but it did not take and all reverted to various Protestant sects. It is not in the Hammon nature to be told what to do by anyone, especially priests.

The next notice of Charles Hammon was in the Carons Louisville Directory 1876 in which he is listed as having his residence at 66 Water Street near Second Street. The same directory also denoted Mathias Miller as living at this same address so I think we can assume that the young married couple was living with her father at this time. In the Carons Louisville Directory 1877 and also 1878 he is shown as living at 68 Water Street near Third Street, so they had moved next door. Water Street, incidentally, was then the principal street facing the river front where the scores of steamboats docked every day. It was parallel to and north of Main Street.

Evidently this couple moved around as much as his parents had done for we find the following listings: Carons Louisville Directory 1881, residence 426 Main near Campbell; 1882, residence 940 Market; 1883, residence 940 East Main; 1885, Charles Hammon, pipeman Engine Company No. 3, residence 182 Shelby; 1886 residence 1307 Story; 1887 Charles F. Hammon, carpenter, residence 748 East Jefferson; 1890 Charles F. Hammon, Bourbon Stock Yards, residence 931 East Jefferson. As the Louisville Directories of 1891 to 1900 indicate, he remained in this work and at this residence for the balance of his life.

His son, John Hammon (b. 1 Dec 1872), first appears in the Carons Louisville Directory 1891 as living with his parents at 931 East Jefferson Street, and Jacob, Jesse, and Martha show up in the directory of 1897 at this same address. After Charles died Barbara Hammon continued to live at this address and was visited frequently by Stratton Hammon; as a small boy since he was allowed to make the trip on foot whenever he pleased. The two story masonry house was stuccoed on the exterior and the stucco marked off in large blocks to resemble stone. There were tremendous shade trees in the front yard. He remembers a sycamore with a diameter of 3 or 4 feet. This house still stands today on the north side of Jefferson Street several doors west of Wenzel Street but a store has been built under it and in front of it and only the second floor of the old house can be seen projecting above the roof of the store.

Charles Franklin Hammon (b. 9 Sep 1845) died 19 August 1900 at his residence. The newspaper account was as follows:

Bro. Chas. F. Hammon departed this life at his residence, 931 E. Jefferson Street, Sunday morning, August 19, 1900, after a lingering illness of many weeks. Bro. Hammon was converted in June 1899, and on the 17th of that month was united with the Franklin Street Church. He bore his last illness with Christian fortitude and died in full triumph of a living faith. Bro. Hammon was kind-hearted and ever true to his friends. He was a loving husband and father and is greatly missed by his loved ones. His funeral was conducted from Franklin Street Church by Pastor Jenkins, after which his remains were laid to rest in St. Louis Cemetery. May God comfort the hearts of the sorrowing ones.

The children of Charles Franklin Hammon (b. 9 Sep 1845) and Barbara Miller Hammon (b. 11 Jul 1852) were:

1. John Hammon born 1 December 1872.
2. Charles Hammon born 6 June 1875, married first Siny. _____ who divorced him and later married _____ Kraher who operated a pillow company in Louisville. He married third Nora Newman who outlived him.
3. Jesse Franklin Hammon born 18 January 1878, married Ella _____ who outlived him by many years.
4. Jacob Hammon born 30 March 1880. He never married. He was evidently named for the Jacob Jordan who was a witness at his parents' marriage.
5. Martha May Hammon born 27 August 1883, christened at the Catholic Church that then stood at Buchannon and Washington Streets. She was Stratton Hammons favorite aunt and before she was married, frequently escorted him around the neighborhood. She married Jerome Edgar Robertson on 10 February 1912, at the Evangelical Church, which stood at Highland and Grinsread Drive. The minister was Reverend Zimmerman. Martha May Hammon Robertson died in Louisville 22 August 1973, 5 days short of her 90th birthday. She was buried in Resthaven Cemetery. Their first child (a) was Jerome Edgar Robertson, who was born in Louisville, Kentucky, 4 December 1912. He married Catherine Davis, daughter of Oscar Davis and Maude Cook of Taylor County, Kentucky, in Indiana, on 10 June 1949. They have daughters Barbara Diane Robertson born in Louisville, Kentucky 16 September, 1950, and Victoria Kay Robertson born in Louisville, Kentucky, 1 March 1952. Their second child (b) was Roy Lee Robertson, who was born in Louisville, Kentucky, 21 September 1914. He married Elizabeth Toy, daughter of Norris Toy and Laura Terry of Bowling Green, Kentucky, in Louisville, Kentucky, 20 April 1950. They have son Terry Lee Robertson born in Louisville, Kentucky, 25 November 1950, and daughter Sandra Lee Robertson born in Louisville, Kentucky 29 November 1952.

6. Emma Hammon born 2 June 1887, married _____ Brock at age sixteen. She was accidentally killed by a revolver falling out of a drawer. They had one son named Bennett who moved to Texas with his father after his mother's death. Stratton Hammon remembered playing with this cousin several times before he moved away or perhaps during a visit to Louisville.

7. Matthew Hammon born 11 January 1892, married Aline Shields of Fairfield, Kentucky. They had one son, Harold Matthew Hammon born 28 September 1917. Matthew died 21 November 1962. "Uncle Bud" was always a hero to his nephew. He was only 13 years older than Stratton Hammon and spent a great deal of time on extended hunting and fishing trips which were very exciting to him. He was also noted for his "desperate courage" in a fight as was his grandfather Jesse Hammon. The work he engaged in was cattle and the Louisville Stock Yards as had his father. He made quite a financial success of it. His only child (a) Harold Matthew Hammon married Louise Manby of LaGrange, Kentucky in Prince George County, Virginia 29 January 1942 as he was about to sail to Europe in the American Expeditionary Forces during World War II. He was a Sergeant in the Medical Corps in a field hospital and many times under fire. The parents of his wife were William James Manby and Mary Virginia Overstreet who lived in LaGrange, Kentucky. Harold is an expert in cattle with Klarer of Kentucky and thus carries on the work of his grandfather and father. The children of Harold M. Hammon and Louise are (1) William Matthew Hammon born in Louisville 1 January 1944 and who married Dian Marie Morgan 20 January 1962 and have one child to date Matthew Morgan Hammon born 15 January 1963. (2) Robert Manby Hammon born Louisville 28 June 1947. (3) Barbara Elizabeth Hammon born Louisville 26 September 1952.

Frances Hammon, married Peter Thomas in Louisville, Kentucky and had 18 children, 13 of which can be identified as follows:

1. A boy who died in infancy.

Generation 4

2. A boy who died in infancy.
3. Jesse Thomas (a girl) who married Henry Olwell, lived in Seattle, Washington, and had twin boys Lee and Lawrence.
4. Boy who died in infancy.
5. Boy who died in infancy.
6. Emma Thomas married Russell Ogle, lived in St. Louis, Missouri. Had children Margaret, Mildred, Marion and Joseph.
7. Allie Thomas born 14 December 1878, married Walter Scott Fisher, lived in Louisville, Kentucky, died 1963, had children: (a) Ada Celestine Fisher born 22 January 1902, married first Harry Estell of Springfield, Illinois, and had son Peter Lee Estell born 15 November 1936, married second Louis Churchill Tingley in Louisville 1940 and had son David Churchill Tingley born 9 November 1941, died 1970.
(b) Mary Scott Fisher born 5 February 1907, a stunningly beautiful girl, married Gustavus Albrecht III in Louisville and had son Scott Cabell Albrecht born 1927. Gus Albrecht was killed in an accident and Mary Scott was married, had a son, and was widowed in the space of one year! She married second J. B. Goodman of Hamilton, Ohio, where they now live and have no children. Scott Cabell Albrecht has four children, three of whom are named Adele, Scott, and Connie.
(c) Walter Fisher born 1909, married Dorothy Rapp and have children Dottie Sue and Diana.
8. Ella Celestine Thomas married Norbourne Rudy in Louisville, Kentucky. They had children (a) Hope born 1904, (b) Norbourne borne 1906, and (c) Helen born 17 May 1908. These second cousins I have known since childhood.
9. Ada Thomas born 16 January 1884, married William Bayse Howell 20 May 1903, lived in Louisville, Kentucky. They had daughter (a) Martha born 30 December 1907 who married Peter J. McCarthy, Jr. in Cincinnati and had daughter Martha Jane McCarthy who married Francis Rapp. All live at this writing in Cincinnati, Ohio. (b) Daughter Jane Howell born 12 October 1909 married Clarence Henry Fleming in Louisville 31 July 1940 and had daughter Jane Howell Fleming born 31 March 1943, and married Francis Joseph Buckley, Jr., in Louisville, 4 April, 1964, as this was being written. Jane Howell Fleming has been my lifelong friend. (c) Son George Howell born 26 November, 1904, married Nancy Gaddis Heller and live in Eatontown, New Jersey. They have no children.
10. Norbourne Thomas, eldest boy that lived. Married the daughter of a judge in Omaha, Nebraska, and had six children there. Died about 1950.
11. Harper Thomas married Mary Lee Johnson and had one daughter named Elizabeth. Married second Tess Rorick, who now survives him. As I am writing this I called Ada Thomas Tingley for information and this Tess Rorick, her aunt, was visiting her at the time.
12. Earl Thomas is now dead. He had (a) a son who is also dead. Also (b) a daughter Evelyn, who married George Oswein, who had sons, George Thomas, David, Lally, Michael, and Jim, plus a daughter, Jean.
13. Donald Thomas, who lived in St. Louis, had no children.

Frances Hammon Thomas, Aunt Fanny, as she was known in our branch of the family, was certainly her father's daughter. She was extremely vigorous and in spite of delivering 18 children, traveled constantly. Stratton Hammon said that she journeyed to Owen County, Kentucky, numerous times to visit her Hammon relatives, she made at least one trip to Missouri to visit her mother's sister, Pamela Paget (see the chapter on the Paget Family), and today her daughter Ella Thomas Rudy has a number of art objects which she brought back from the Chicago World's Fair of 1893, where she undoubtedly visited her brother. Her trips were all the more remarkable because travel was not as convenient in those days as it later became.

Notes for Silas Berry:

From Find A Grave Memorial:

The Smithville Herald, Smithville, Mo. 5-17-1907:

Berry.

Silas Berry, oldest son of G. B. Berry, died at St. Joseph's hospital in Kansas City, Friday, May 10th, 1907. The cause of death was cancer and for some time Mr. Berry knew that life for him was of short duration. The remains were brought to Smithville Saturday afternoon, and taken to the home of his brother-in-law, Alfred Lowman. The funeral service was conducted at the home of Mr. Lowman Sunday morning, by Dr. Stafford, after which burial took place in Goss Cemetery beside his mother who preceded him to the mysteries of the Great Beyond.

Mr. Berry was married to Miss Lucy Shouse, who with three daughters survives the husband and father. We extend our sympathy to all concerned.

Notes for William Alexander Hammond:

Information concerning William Alexander Hammon is supplied by Ina Ruth (Hammond) King who is a direct descendant of William. She is the only source that lists William Alexander Hammon as a son of this William Hammon; however, recent information has come to me from Neal Owen Hammon and Keath A. Hammon, indirect sources from Stratton Owen Hammon, confirm her information.

Here is the information given to me from Keath A. Hammon, who is in possession of Stratton Owen Hammon's genealogical notebooks.

Dear Rodney,

Sorry for the delay. I located Stratton's notebooks and have attached the information concerning the conversation he had with William Alexander Hammon on November 14th, 1939. I have not reviewed all the notebooks. He had fifteen notebooks that I know of. It appears that he would put whatever information he found during the course of several years moving around the county courthouses in the course of his normal business. I hope this helps.

Best,

Generation 5

Keath A. Hammon

William Alexander Hammon stated that his brothers were: Colby, Ambrose, William, Elizah, John.

Keath

Sorry about the mix up. Here is what was in book 5 concerning a trip to Owen county by Stratton O. Hammon (SOH):

Nov. 14th, 1939

Conversation between Stratton O. Hammon and William Alexander Hammon on Old Squire (George) Hammon Farm, Owen county Kentucky:

William Alexander Hammon was born May 10th, 1864. Son of William Hammon, Son of Robert Hammon (brother of Jesse Franklin Hammon), son of John Hammon

Other brothers: Colby, Ambrose, William (died in Louisville), Elizah, John George W. Hammon had brother known as Jim Crow Hammon. (Who was almost seven feet tall)

Lewis Hammon was a half-brother to Jesse F. Hammon.

Originally, John Hammon settled just west of Stamping Ground, KY.(Scott Co.)

Moved to Eagle Creek later.

Remembers that John Hammon fought in Revolutionary War in battle of Cowpens.

Original John Hammon owned no farm in later life, but lived with children. Died in Jesse Holbrooks house (father of Benj. F. Holbrook).

Charles Hammon of Hessler is cousin of William A. Hammon.

John Morgan has family bible, lived near Cornith on creek.

Also SOH talked with John Holbrook, age 92 on Nov. 14th, 1939:

John Holbrook, uncle of Benj. F. Holbrook, said that his grandfather, Zach married a Morgan sister of a Morgan girl who was the wife of John Hammon, father of Jesse F.

Notes for Riley Hammond:

Riley Hammond and Lulu Wainscott were married in 1924. The marriage record states he is 51 and she is 36, making him being born in 1873 and her in 1888. His name is clearly spelled Riley Hammond and not George R. or George Riley Hammond. The Ohio marriage registry for his son, James, shows his parents as George R. Hammond and Lula Wainscott. All of the census records show his name as Riley Hammond while the U.S. City Directories for Covington show it as Riley G. Hammond. Are Riley and George Riley the same individual? Most people who show George Riley Hammond state he is the son of Jonathan Hammond and Missouri Ervin and give a specific birth date as December 17, 1869. This Riley Hammond is the son of Cyrus Randal Hammon and Amanda Lavinia Prather and all of the census and various records show him being born in 1873 plus or minus a year.. I am convinced Riley and George are two different people and according to marriage records it is Riley and not George who married Lulu Wainscott. Since they didn't get married until 1924, then the first 3 children, Blanche, Augusta, and Gayle are not the daughters of Lulu, but from Riley's first unknown marriage. Only son James belongs to this couple. The 1910 census for Riley states he is a widow. The 1930 census states he was 25 years of age when he was first married, which would have been in 1897. Who was his first wife? Did they have any children? If he was a widower in 1910, then who is the mother of Blanche (1910), Augusta (1914), and Gayle (1915)?

Notes for John Hammon:

The following information provided by Neal Owen HAMMON. It was originally intended to be a part of Chapter 3 of his unpublished book entitled: "The HAM(M)ON(D) Name":

John Hammon was born 1 December 1872 in Louisville, Kentucky probably in his maternal grandfather's house at 66 Water Street. Family tradition has it that this was a dry-cleaning establishment on the first floor with living quarters above, as was customary with the small business enterprises of those days. He was named for his great-grandfather and, like him, had no middle initial. John Hammon was 6 feet tall, had blue eyes, and jet black hair.

He was baptized at the Catholic Church on the southwest corner of Hancock and Walnut Streets and attended school at what was known as the "Market Street School" on Market west of Clay. The school was still standing and being used circa 1990. His first appearance in the public records is in Carons Louisville Directories of 1891-3, "John Hammon, painter, boards 931 E. Jefferson." This was his parent's house. His sister-in law, Helen Theresa Miller, kept a diary in which was the following entry: "Emma Miller met John Hammon Sunday Nov. 13th 1892." Evidently the occasion was momentous enough to rate a notation of this sort.

At the time his future wife, Emma Carolina Fredericka Miller, was living at her family home at 528 Baxter Avenue while he was living with his parents on the north side of Jefferson Street several doors west of Wenzel Street. Thus they were living on the same thoroughfare, which changed names as it angled, and only six blocks apart. Stratton Hammon walked between the two houses countless times as a small boy.

A little over four years after they had met, on 6 December 1896, John and Emma married at Jeffersonville, Indiana. It is just across the Ohio River from Louisville and it was the custom then, as it still was in more recent generations, for many young couples to use one of the many "marriage parlors" located in that city.

Upon being married John and Emma Hammon moved into a house on the north west corner of Overhaul Street [now Ruble] and Roger Street. This is reflected in Carons Louisville Directory of 1898; "John Hammon, painter, residence 1223 Overhill St." A daughter, Helen Virginia Hammon was born here.

Then for a short time the newly married couple moved in with the Millers at 528 Baxter Avenue, and next to the second floor of a house which stood where Johnson Street now breaks into Market Street. Johnson Street did not exist at that time. The next move was to Bishop Street between Payne and Roger Streets, where a son, Russel George Hammon, was born. This is reflected in Carons Louisville Directory of 1900 and 1901; "John Hammon, painter, residence 1213 Bishop St."

With their two children the couple now settled down for nine years at 1117 Payne Street. The Carons Louisville Directory of 1905 lists; "John Hammon, painter, residence 1317 Payne St." Evidently the house numbers were changed about this time because my parents occupied only one house on Payne Street and when Stratton Hammon was very young he remembered the number as 1117 and it still is 1117. Stratton Hammon was born in this Payne Street house on 6 March 1904 and two years later another daughter Eda Gray Harriet Hammon was also born.

This was a four room frame cottage of pleasing design, with the rear two rooms offset to form what would now be called a patio in the rear yard. The roof partly covered this pleasant spot and an arbor covered with vines arched over to meet this overhanging roof. In those times before air-conditioning, shade was important. As was customary in those days, the front yard was surrounded by an iron picket fence and the rear and side yards by a board fence perhaps 5 feet tall. This house was on the west side of Payne the fourth door north from Bishop Street. It has since been demolished. While living in this house, two children, Helen Virginia Hammon and Russel George Hammon died. In 1911 the family rented half of a house at 528 Baxter Avenue, which was owned by Emma Hammon's mother. Notes for Hallie May Hammons:
Information floating around on Ancestry.com concerning Hallie is quite jumbled. Many list her death as August 14, 1914; however, this death date belongs to a different Hallie Cook. Hallie first marries Horace Cook on November 15, 1903, according to Kentucky Marriage data. What is interesting is it states she is 18 years of age at the time of the marriage, which would have put her birth year in 1885. Several different pieces of documentation shows she was born in 1890. I believe they lied about her birth year on her marriage license because she was only 13 when she married Horace Cook. They evidently divorce prior to 1919. She next marries Frank Kennedy, Sr. on May 31, 1919. It is clearly this Hallie because subsequent U.S. Census reports shows the children she had with Horace (Harold and Anna) are now living with her and Frank Kennedy and they are listed as his step-children.
