Notes for John Macy:

John Macy was born on Nantucket, a great grandchild of original purchaser and first white settler Thomas Macy. Nantucket Town Records (original, p. 18) shows that John was born on the 11th of the 12th month of 1721/22. This is used as his date of birth, although Quaker records show 11th 12 mo 1720-1 and the Folger collection of Nantucket records shows 11th 11 mo 1721. All three dates are shown in the transcripts included in Massachusetts Vital Records to 1850 (Nantucket Vital Records). John married Eunice Coleman, second great granddaughter of Thomas Coleman, another Nantucket original owner. John and Eunice had between twelve and fifteen children while residents of Nantucket. Three children (Eliab, Eunice and a second Eunice) are found only in the Macy genealogy (Solomon J. Macy, 1868). All died young, and support for their birth has not been located. They are included here pending further research. The Barney records show a child, Dinah, with no birth date or further information except that she married Libni Barnard (also with no further information). John's daughter Amey married Libni Barnard, and further research reveals no sign of Dinah. Accordingly, she is not included here and we assume Dinah and Amey are the same person.

John and his family were among some of the first Quakers to go to Guilford County, North Carolina, in 1771, three years after the death of Eunice. There were several who departed Nantucket together: Reuben Bunker Jr., Daniel Worth, Libni Coffin and Gayer Starbuck and their families went along. This move was in response to the preachings of several North Carolina ministers who had spent time on Nantucket and who emphasized the rich land and good life in North Carolina. Six or eight other men went along to "view the country". They left Nantucket on the 28th of the fourth month of 1771 (Philbrick, Away Off Shore). Part of their desire to move may have been in anticipation of the Revolution. John sold three pieces of property on Nantucket between the 9th and 26th of April, 1771, as well as a 127th interest in common land used for sheep grazing. Another piece of property was sold on 23 September 1773 by John's son-in-law, Paul Macy (Bethiah's husband) who held power of attorney. In all of these land transactions, John was referred to as "yeoman". (Massachusetts Land Records 1620-1986, Nantucket Deed Index, Grantors and Grantees, familysearch.org.) It is clear that John owned a fair amount of property, probably inherited through his family from the founding of the island.

Notes for Benjamin Worth II:
From Find A Grave Memorial:

Benjamin appears in records in Vassalboro as Benjamin Worth Sr and his son as Benjamin Worth Jr. to distinguish the Benjamin's apart. The terms senior and junior were not always used to determine father and son until more recent times. Before the nineteenth century, the term "senior" was given to the eldest resident of the name, and junior for the next youngest person of the same name which may or may not be a son, it could be cousin or nephew. Much in the way son-in-law did not always imply husband of a daughter, but a step-son to be considered a son by law.

He was a "recommended minister" in the Friends Church in Vassalboro, Maine. He built barns for the surrounding neighborhood. There are some still living who heard him say in a public meeting shortly before the "cold year," that the time was soon coming when the children would cry for bread and the fathers and mothers would have none to give them, a state of things which was literally realized: for in the year 1816 there was a frost in every month, and a snow storm covered up all the fallen apple blossoms the 12th day of sixth month. Corn ripened in this vicinity in only one field, on the slope of the hill behind the house where Edward H. Cook of Vassalboro now lives.

His death is recorded in the Vassalborough Friends Church Records, but no gravestone has been found for him the cemetery.

Wife Charity's burial is a mystery. She doesn't show up in ANY records except the Marriage Certificate/License. She just disappears.

Wife Jane Beavers' burial is also a mystery. It is assumed by other researchers that she went back to Canada and was buried there.

Another researcher contacted me (Norma Faller) with information about James, as:

Jane Beavers died after complications in childbirth with son James Jr.

James then remarries to Charity Kent and has 2 sons quickly after marriage and then disappears from ALL records, so it's assumed that she dies in Ohio, but no one can confirm this.

James then remarries to Nancy Stephens Sherron in 1826, Harrison County, Ohio and has even more children. James traveled A LOT. Why? hasn't been discovered yet. Apparently he was away from home more often than he was home. For this reason, Nancy takes the youngest children and leaves. James rarely sees her or the children again. After about 10 years apart, Nancy files for divorce and it's granted. James reappears living with daughter Isabella Worth and family in his aging and debilitating years, where he eventually dies. When I spoke with the Church on the phone years ago, they told me he was NOT buried there because there were no records of him being interred there. I sent them the death information which stated he WAS there. The current owners then told me to wait for a couple of weeks while they browsed the cemetery looking for him. About a month later, I received a picture of his headstone with a letter from them stating that he apparently was the 1st person ever buried there, and he is located in the very back corner of the lot next to a fence where they had never been before. I asked them where the paperwork was that showed the family information and they stated that when they took over the cemetery, all the paperwork had been shipped off somewhere and they didn't know where, so they couldn't even contact the previous (deceased) owners to find out. This will probably forever remain a mystery.

This record shows he's living with daughter Isabel and family just before he dies.

Notes for Hamilton Howard Fish:
From Wikipedia:

He was an American serial killer, rapist, child molester, and cannibal who committed a minimum of three child murders from July 1924 to June 1928. He was also known as the Gray Man, the Werewolf of Wysteria, the Brooklyn Vampire, the Moon Maniac, and The Boogey Man. Fish once boasted that he "had children in every state", and at one time stated his number of victims was about 100. However, it is not known whether he was referring to rapes or cannibalization, nor is it known if the statement was truthful.

Fish was a suspect in at least five murders during his lifetime. He confessed to three murders that police were able to trace to a known homicide, and he confessed to stabbing at least two other people. Fish was apprehended on December 13, 1934, and put on trial for the kidnapping and murder of Grace Budd. He was convicted and executed by electric chair on January 16, 1936, at the age of 65. His crimes were dramatized in the 2007 film The Gray Man, starring Patrick Bauchau as Fish.

The seal of the State of North Carolina is circular. It features a woman in a red dress and white shawl holding a torch, and a man in a white shirt and blue pants holding a bow. A plow is visible in the foreground. The text around the border reads "THE GREAT SEAL OF THE STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA". The dates "MAY 20, 1775" and "APRIL 12, 1776" are inscribed. The motto "ESSE QUAM VIDERI" is at the bottom.

Notes for Chrystal Lucille Couch

Lucille and her family were watching fireworks on July 4, 1949. After the show, she couldn't get up. Once they got her home, a doctor was summoned to the house and he began treating her over the next 2 weeks for a "summer flu." When she didn't get better, they took her to the hospital where they diagnosed her with polio. The family was told if she had gone another week she would probably have died.
